STEAMERS IN COLLISION OFF SANDY HOOK

If Will Paid For All Barn Painting He'd Be Bankrupt

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 19.—In an article over three months ago I told you of this proposed trip to the coast by train and airplane combined. Now the papers are just full of it.

Guess they thought on account of mine being a joke column that it was the bunk. I should have relayed the news to an editorial writer and let him tell it. Then it would have been authentic.

The only thing I see about the scheme that is not practical is why would you get off the plane and onto a train just because night had come? We never got off a train and into a wagon just because it's dark.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P. S.—Overestimated my resources when I made offer to furnish paint. It was a typographical error. I meant I would send a brush to any town who would paint its name.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Out on the East Side there are many evidences of improvement this spring. One of the most noticeable is in the Winslow, Maryland, East Washington street district, where in the area of two blocks or so, no less than ten homes are now being brightened up with a fine new coat of paint. Some of the work being done is especially noticeable.

Rather a new way to carry around a boquet was noted on the streets here yesterday. A bunch of lilacs was seen protruding from the radiator of an auto being driven along the street.

With the discussion of abandoning of the Martin Gantz school, Pa Newc wonders if there are any old time pupils of the school still in New Castle, any who attended the school in its early days. Let's hear if there are.

Announcement is made today that the price of the Pittsburgh afternoon newspapers has been raised to three cents. The Pittsburgh papers are among the last in the country, that have been sold at two cents. Greatly increased cost of newspaper publication has occasioned raise in subscription price for newspapers everywhere in the past few years.

That eight portable schools are to be abandoned next fall by the New Castle schools is an announcement that indicates that New Castle school facilities have at last almost caught up to the demands. For many years the program has been to add more portables most every year, but opening of the new George Washington Junior high school next fall and the large addition to the Senior high school will make possible the elimination of eight portables.

Action of council in ordering that a number of places about the city that are in such condition that they are eyesores and nuisances, be eliminated, will meet with approval of the public. The program is not extensive enough. There are other places where the same action could be taken to advantage.

Flowers were very much in evidence Friday afternoon at the Croton school. Every little girl, it seemed, and almost every little boy had a boquet of some sort or another for the teacher. They ranged from lilacs to violets, from tulips to "cat eyes". But all of them were appreciated.

The Rose avenue extension will soon be completed. Already the road has been cut through, ditching has been done, and it remains but for the steam roller to pack down the road until it will be in use by cars.

While they will make no statement for publication, yet the satisfied smile on the faces of the officials at the Pennsylvania Engineering Works indicates that the hug furnace which they are building is getting along nicely.

However, one of the queerest presents that ever was given to a teacher

Four Hundred Passengers On Pennland, Outbound Steamer, In Collision

Wireless Message Does Not Say Whether Passengers Were Panicky Or Not

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Looming out of the veil of fog, too late to avoid a collision, the steamer Pennland, Red Star Line, crashed head-on today with the freighter Anniston City, Norton-Lilly Line, off Sandy Hook.

Both vessels were badly damaged in the collision, according to wireless reports received at the Barge office and Naval station. The captain of the Anniston City reported that his boat is taking water rapidly but no immediate assistance was needed. The Pennland carries 400 passengers and crew.

The Pennland, delayed six hours by the heavy fog, was outbound for Havre and Southampton, while the

Anniversary Of New York-Paris Flight Of Colonel Lindbergh

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—On a rather drab, misty morning in May a year ago tomorrow the usual calm of Roosevelt field was broken when word spread like wild fire that "Lindy's going!"

"Lindy" was that tall, slim, hatless youth with the tousle-hair who had zoomed into the flying field in his silvery-hued monoplane, "Sprit of St. Louis," from the west a few days before and quietly announced that he would attempt a non-stop flight to Paris. His plane looked good. It had crossed the country in two jumps—from San Diego, Cal., to St. Louis, and from St. Louis to New York. But it had only one motor!

Commander Rickard E. Byrd's trimotored plane was being carefully groomed for the first trans-Atlantic flight at the time.

The westerner wasn't racing anybody. He made that plain. He was simply going when the weather was O. K.

This particular morning he sat in a flivver, now and then squinting at the murky skies.

"It doesn't look bad—I guess we'll go," he remarked.

By "we" he meant himself and his plane.

The mechanics were emptying five-gallon can of gasoline into the plane. Workers hurried back and forth, doing this thing and that. There was a whir of excitement about the hangars. The crowd grew. Police established a "dead line" and kept the throng back of ropes.

The imperturbable Charles A. Lindbergh climbed out of the flivver at

REJECTED SUITOR KILLS DANCER

In a burst of passion because she had spurned his love and had ejected him from her apartment, Horatio Colombres, wealthy Argentinian, shot and killed Maria Montero, Spanish dancer, in her studio in New York City, afterwards sending a bullet through his own temple. Miss Montero is shown above in a dancing pose with Robert Mandrano. She is said to have rejected Colombres when she learned he had a wife and family in Paris, France.

Officials Foil Attempt To Secure Farmhand Who Murdered Three

MAY MOVE YOUTH TO ANOTHER JAIL

Pleadings Of Young Girl Save Three Members Of Her Family

(International News Service)

RUSHVILLE, Neb., May 19.—Feeling here today was running high against Henry Sherman, 19-year-old farmhand, who yesterday went on a "killing spree", slaying three members of the family of Roger Pochon, wealthy rancher. The Pochons' young baby, beaten over the head with a shotgun, is not expected to live.

The youth according to authorities confessed when apprehended, that he had intended wiping out the entire family of seven. Only the pitiful pleadings of the Pochons' 14-year-old daughter, Nellie, whom he loved, deterred him. Sheman is alleged to have declared.

Scores of infuriated ranchers stormed the county jail last night, but authorities succeeded in holding them at bay. The mob finally was dispersed early this morning.

To Move Sherman

Authorities immediately made ready to spirit Sherman to the county jail at Chadron, 30 miles from here.

He was given a hearing here early this morning and bound over to await the action of the district grand jury.

"I don't know why I did it," he is said to have told officials. "A black storm suddenly came over me. And then I just wanted to kill. I just couldn't help it."

"I shot the boss, his wife, and the boss' mother with a shot-gun. The baby started crying so I hit it over the head with the gun.

"I would have bumped them all off if it hadn't been for Nellie. I couldn't stand her 'bawling'."

Five Factories Spread Over Entire Country Will Soon Be Under Way

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Though complete arrangements are held in secrecy, it became definitely known today that the largest aircraft manufacturing corporation in the world is now in process of formation, backed by three of America's most powerful capitalists.

The new concern, which experts say will usher in a new day in the history of aviation, will have five factories, one each in Baltimore, Chicago, Buffalo, Los Angeles and the fifth in a southern city to be selected later. The Buffalo plant is already in operation.

The company will be known as the General Aircraft Corporation and has been organized by three stockholders of General Motors, although the latter has no connection with the new concern, according to reports.

The names of the three organizers have not yet been revealed.

L. A. Lustig and George Townsend, of Chicago, are acting as agents for the corporation, it was learned, and they are to arrive in Buffalo today in a plane piloted by Bert Acosta, one of the many pilots signed by the company. Approximately 70 aviation specialists, gathered from the Atlantic Aircraft Factory, builders of the famous Fokker planes, from Wright field, Dalton, Ohio, and other points, as well as many famous pilots have been engaged, according to information received from reliable sources today.

Underworld Haunts Of New Jersey Combed By Officials In Search Today

BEAUTIFUL HOME PARTIALLY WRECKED

All Agitators And Radicals Will Be Rounded Up For Questioning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Working on the theory that the bombers who attempted to kill Robert G. Elliott, executioner for four states, by blowing up his home Thursday, were pals of four desperadoes executed by Elliott in Trenton, N. J., six months ago, detectives today were concentrating their search on underworld haunts in New Jersey.

"Big Joe" and "Little Joe" Juliano of Newark, Christopher Barone of New York and Louis "Kid Ruff" Capozzi of Jersey City were executed November 13, 1927, after being convicted of killing George Condit in Newark.

Many letters were sent to officials previous to the execution threatening violence if the quartet were sent to the chair.

In the meantime, federal authorities are planning to conduct a round up of agitators and radicals on the theory that the bombing was the work of Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers. Elliott is commonly supposed to have turned the switch that sent Sacco and Vanzetti to death. He has, however, executed more than 100 other persons in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts. Elliott was uninjured by the mysterious blast, but his home was wrecked.

With Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Mich., founder and supreme president of the Woman's Benefit association as the guest of honor the convention of the Butler district of the organization held Friday afternoon and evening in the Elks home, North Mill and Falls streets, was one of the best gatherings ever held in the history of the district.

Mrs. Adda R. Stone of Butler deputy in charge of the district and supreme lady of ceremonies, presided at the afternoon session at which time Mayor William H. Gillespie was the guest of honor and welcomed the assembled ladies to this city.

Miss Bina M. West founder and supreme president of the association responded to the welcome extended by the mayor and gave a most interesting talk. She said among other things that it was pleasant to be welcomed by the mayor of a community of this size. She said that in the past 30 years there had been many changes especially in the lives of women. Thirty years ago about the only apportunity offered them in any economic way was to be a school teacher. Now they had entered into every phase of life's activities with equal advantages with men and have demonstrated their ability along all lines and especially in the life insurance problem as may be learned from the history of the Woman's Benefit association.

Harry K. Bell who was also present as a guest was then called upon and made a few remarks in which

Four Casualties Are Reported In Nicaragua Battle

Combined Force Of Marines And Native Guards Battle Sandino Rebels

(International News Service)

PUERTO, CABEZAS, Nicaragua, May 19.—A combined force of United States marines and National (native) guardsmen, that clashed with a rebel band at Paso Real, suffered four casualties, according to information received today by Major Otley.

Capt. R. S. Hunter, of the U. S. marine corps, who commanded the combined forces was critically wounded. He is reported to have died later, according to information received here today. Augustino Sandino, leader of the guerrilla forces, is believed to be operating in the Pis Pis river district, not far from the scene of the recent raids upon American owned mines. This conclusion is based upon the fact that Sandino's name was signed to a letter found at La Luz and Los Angeles mine threatening death to all United States residents in Nicaragua.

Marine patrols are operating through dense jungle country with swampy areas between the mountains. In addition to the difficulty of the terrain rain falls frequently filling the trails with mud and causing danger of fever.

Heresy Charges Against Bishop F. J. McConnell

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 19.—Heresy charges against Bishop William F. McDowell of the Washington, D. C., area and Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburgh were brought before the Methodist Episcopal general conference here today by the Rev. George A. Cooke, a retired minister of Wilmington, Del.

The Rev. Cooke, who is not a delegate or in active church service, presented his charges to R. J. Wade, secretary of the conference, and based them on "teaching of false doctrine". He referred to two books, one "That I May Have Some" by Bishop McDowell and "Religious Certainty" by Bishop McConnell.

Secretary Wade referred the charges to the committee on judiciary and a report is expected some time next week.

Reverend Cooke recently brought charges of immorality against Bishop McConnell which were dropped on the floor of the general conference. The minister has sought to present the charges he preferred today in two previous general conferences.

In Raging Blizzard

Because of a raging blizzard, General Nobile's plan to land an exploring party on Lenin Land could not be carried through but many scientifically important photographs of the region were taken.

The dirigible's crew suffered severe hardships from the cold when forced to fly at great heights because of fog. Their drinking water and most of the edibles on the ship were frozen hard. The exterior of the ship was covered with a coating of ice.

Upon his return, General Nobile was unstinted in his praise of the work of the ship's crew and the base force whose efforts made the flight possible. It is expected the flight to the pole will be attempted within five days.

is reported to Pa Newc by a young lady who teaches the young idea at Wurtemburg. The age of the hair ribbon is past, you know, but nevertheless, one little tot brought teacher a big purple ribbon to wear about her hair.

Signs of approaching hot weather were noticed yesterday afternoon. And one of the best was a barber on South Jefferson, sitting in front of his shop, sans shoes, just cooling his dogs. Then, the young bloods have started to wear their shirts open at the neck. That is a sign that never fails.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new George Washington Junior High school these days. Bricklayers are again at work, encasing the front of the structure. The reason for the delay, we are told, was because they ran out of brick at the job, it was some time before they could get a perfect match. Almost all of the inside rooms are plastered and work on the interior trim will start in the near future.

ANNIVERSARY OF NEW YORK-PRAIS FLIGHT OF COL. LINDBERGH

about 7:30. He stuck his long legs into his flying suit and climbed into his plane. Newly-made friends—Byrd, Chamberlin, Fokker, Grover Whalen and others—strode over and wished him luck. "Lindy" thanked them with a quiet smile.

At 7:40 Doc Kinkaid spun the propeller. For ten minutes the motor droned.

At 7:52 the pilot stuck his head out the window. "OK—we'll go," he said.

They pulled the blocks away. The motor roared. The plane lurched with its heavy load, then started forward. The young man at the controls gave a stiff military salute with his right hand.

"We" were off!

The plane picked up speed, shot along the runway, rose a bit and then bogged down. Twice it did this before rising. It was now heading directly for a string of telegraph wires and the watchers' hearts beat faster as it seemed the plane would never scale them. But it did, missing the wires by a few feet.

"That chap has nerve," remarked Byrd who had been holding his breath. The epic flight of history was on.

Who, in this country, or anywhere else was not thrilled when thirty-three and a half hours later, word was flashed from Le Bourget Field, Paris, that "We" had landed! After the world had waited in suspense for hours a plane shot through from the inky sky into the flood lights of Le Bourget field and when it landed out of it stepped the modest "Lindy" pulling letters of introduction from his pocket.

IMMENSE CROWD AT RECEPTION CLOSING CONSISTORY REUNION

attended the Penn theatre in a body. Transportation was provided and at the close of the theatre program they were returned to the cathedral where the closing dinner was served.

C. Ed. Brown, chairman of the dining arrangements stated that 1800 men and women were seated at one time and the sight was a pretty one. Each of the guests had on a fancy hat, those of the women having white plumes in them. The sight of hundreds of these plumes waving in the air, coupled with the orchestra music and the general hum of animated conversation combined to make the affair a splendid success. During the course of the dinner, Judy Sypher and his Cathedral Symphony orchestra played, and pep singing was conducted by Red Williams.

Flag to Legion of Honor

During the dinner, the Consistory Legion of Honor was presented with a beautiful American flag, the gift of William Wignall, a New Castle member of the local bodies.

Mr. Wignall is a former British soldier and during the World war saw some of the heaviest fighting with the British troops. Following his discharge he came to the United States, settling in New Castle, and in the past eight years has established himself as a useful citizen. Because he was with one of America's allies during the war, he wanted to show his appreciation of his American citizenship now, and struck upon the happy thought of presenting an American flag to the Legion of Honor. The address in behalf of Mr. Wignall was made by Attorney George W. Muse, a former Spanish-American war veteran.

In presenting it, Mr. Muse said, in part, "this is the most beautiful flag in the world. It is your flag and my flag, the flag of the United States of America. The flag that has ever been lifted in the cause of righteousness and freedom, but never in the interests of tyrrany nor injustice."

"It has been carried to success in Cuba, in the Phillipines, in France, in Belgium, in Italy, and in Germany, and never once has its stars and stripes trailed the dust in defeat."

"In wartime it was our inspiration to deeds of valor, of heroism, of courage. It peace it is our symbol of prosperity, our promise of the future, our guarantee of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It is a wonderful flag, more than a flag, the symbol of our nation's happiness and in behalf of William Wignall, once an ally, now an American in very fact, and a member of our fraternity, I am privileged to present this flag to the Consistory Legion of Honor."

Captain M. L. Craig, a regular army officer who is stationed in New Castle, and who is the commander of the Legion of Honor, responded for the legion and expressed the gratitude of his organization for the splendid gift.

Reception and Entertainment

A reception and entertainment followed the dinner, the program being held in the cathedral auditorium. John Taranlais Thomas, former New Castle basso sang a group of songs, the Cathedral Chorus sang, and R. Kuechler played a short recital on the Greer Memorial organ.

In the lobby of the cathedral the Builders' band later presented a program, prior to the starting of the ball.

About nine o'clock the ball opened, with Morrell Starke and his orchestra providing the music. This is the orchestra that will play Cascade park this summer and their work Friday night, their introduction to New Castle and Lawrence county won the orchestra a host of friends. Cards were provided for those who did not care to dance.

As a feature of the dancing program, a group of interpretative dances were presented, through the courtesy of the Smith-Williams Institute, and Jacques Van Ipe, the instructor of the institute. Miss Eloise Herman was at the piano.

The first group was a Black Bottom dance, presented by Elberta McCormick, Maxine De Lillo, Jeanne De Lillo, Evelyn Raney, and Winifred Hickling.

Next was an acrobatic dance by Velma Sontag, a Plesoviala Russian, by Dorothy Patch, a French Polka by Lillian Moneagle and Jacques Van Ipe, a modern dance by Evelyn Raney, a modern dance by Geraldine Confer, a Cinderella Waltz by Winifred Hickling, a Dolls Romance by Maxine and Jeanne De Lillo, and a Valse Lucille by Elberta McCormick. The youngsters did splendidly and were roundly applauded. Following the interpretative dancing, lunch was served.

It was a remarkable closing to an unusual reunion, one that was a source of satisfaction to the officers and members of the fraternity responsible for it.

COOLIDGE SPEAKS TO ACADEMY BOYS AT ANNIVERSARY

Greeted By Crowd.

Greeted by a distinguished reception committee, the president was escorted through lanes of cheering persons and through flag-draped streets to the home of Headmaster Alfred E. Stearns of the academy on Chapel avenue. There donning the cap and gown of old Andover, the president marched through two lanes of under-graduates to the academy gates and thence to the steps of Samuel Phillips hall to deliver his address.

Addressing the student body and alumni on the academy campus, Mr. Coolidge pointed out that the student mind is at the ideally plastic stage at the age of matriculation at a secondary school.

"It is for this reason that our secondary schools are of such great importance," he said. "When students now enter the college they are no longer of an impressionable age. Habits of thought have become fixed. The college can not altogether refashion its students. About the best it can do is to carry them on in the course they have already begun.

While the needs of our universities are very great, and every effort should be made to meet them, it does not seem that sufficient emphasis has been placed on the needs of our secondary schools.

THE NEW KONJOLA MEDICINE PRAISED BY NOTED DOCTOR

Ohio Physician Strongly Indorses New Compound; Konjola Man Busy At Love & Megown Drug Store.

DR. GEO. H. SPRIGGS

A remarkable report has been received which shows more clearly than ever the unusual value of this celebrated medical preparation, Konjola, which the Konjola Man is now introducing to large crowds of men and women at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle.

The report referred to was issued by Dr. Geo. H. Spriggs, 2315 Inwood Place, Cincinnati, who has gained fame because of his distinguished service as major in the world war. Dr. Spriggs, who has an Edinburg degree, stated that this surprising Konjola medicine so completely showed its power in so many cases of suffering that he wants everybody to know about it. He gave a detailed report of the work of Konjola and also offered his photograph for publication.

"By helping Nature," said this prominent doctor, "Konjola is far above many older known remedies. I first tried it in a case of kidney trouble—frequently getting up at nights. The man who took it came back the fourth day and said he had slept all through the previous night. I learned afterward that he had been doctoring over ten years for his trouble. I learned of a man who hadn't left his house for over two years. He had been crippled with rheumatism, swollen joints and stiff, aching limbs, and agonizing pains. He completed a treatment of Konjola and said he walked a distance of nearly a mile. This, of course, was about three weeks after he completed Konjola. From this case I believed this medicine would do wonders with neuritis, and I recommended it to a lady who said she had tried everything for this suffering. She had tried mineral baths, electric treatments and medicine upon medicine. It took only five weeks of the Konjola to completely end her trouble, and she has never had a return of the neuritis pains.

"I next treated a woman who had been in bed 3 days out of 5, every week, suffering intense pains, caused from gas bloating and sourness, which had been getting worse in years past. She said in 5 years she had spent several thousand dollars on her health. She took Konjola and began to eat heartily of many things she hadn't dared to touch before, in years. The food agreed with her and she continued a few weeks longer and gained nearly 20 pounds. She says she feels ten years younger, and her appearance certainly shows it. I had another lady tell me Konjola did more good for her than 4 years of special dieting. She took Konjola for nervousness and a general rundown system.

"When Konjola is taken into the human system, there are a score or more of different herbal ingredients and each one of them has a certain duty to perform on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The cleansing and invigorating of these important organs is what seems to bring such amazing relief and new feelings of health. I heartily recommend it and consider it a real Godsend to those who suffer ill-health."

The Konjola Man is at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

GIRL RESERVES HAVE BOY'S NIGHT BANQUET

Japanese lanterns and colored streamer confetti over wires was a pleasing setting for the annual Boy's Night banquet given by the Senior High Girl Reserve club of Senior High school Friday evening in the dining room of the First M. E. church.

"Ships", was the theme of the banquet. Tables were very attractive in a color scheme of lavender and green, with several small ships and green tapers on each table. Streamers of green leading from the ships to the girls places ended with place cards and tiny corsages of violets as favors. Streamers of lavender attached to the ships lead to the boys places and ended with place cards and life-savers as favors. Sailor boy novelties on the tables also added to the banquet theme, Ships. Approximately one hundred were present. A delicious banquet was enjoyed.

A splendid program was carried out and persons taking part were listed as ship's officers for the occasion. Miss Harriet Truby as captain was toastmistress for the evening. Miss Isabel Zehner as ship entertainer, lead the pep singing and directed the seven piece orchestra which played during the banquet.

Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church was the pilot, and the speaker of the evening. Rev. Maxwell spoke on the subject, "The Frailty of the Finer Things of Life". His address was very interesting and inspiring. Robert Sherer as first mate, gave the toast to the girls and Miss Julia Gordon as second mate, gave the toast to the boys. Both toasts were very clever. The event was very successful and a most enjoyable time was had by all present.

HENRY FORD'S RECIPE FOR KEEPING YOUNG

HENRY FORD was in Philadelphia for the purpose of receiving from the Franklin Institute the Cresson Medal in consideration of his rare inventive ability, his organizing power and his industrial leadership this week. While there he expressed the opinion that the way to keep young is to work daily at something in which you are deeply interested. "I believe in work," he said, "but it must be work that holds your interest. That's the way I'd keep young. It may not answer for everybody, but it does for me."

It is safe to say that it will fill the bill for nearly everyone who is fortunate enough to be engaged in a congenial occupation. It makes little difference what the character of it may be, whether it is on the farm or in the factory, in building construction or in art or literature. The great secret of success is in wanting to do a thing, and then in trying to do it to the best of your ability. The best part of this is that it not only brings happiness, but often leads to material success.

STRONG CHARACTER

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has in various ways made an impress upon the country during his years in the white house. He has shown himself to be a much more sagacious politician than his glib detractors imagined him to be. In fitting his politics to the needs of the time and the expectations of the people he has displayed penetrating qualities of mind.

His simplicity of personal bearing, too; his utter lack of affectation and disdain of official pomp, have won him a distinct place in the gallery of national portraits. Attribute as much of his success as we please to good fortune, there remains enough which is his individual achievement.

But perhaps his greatest contribution to public life will be found in his demonstration of the power of character in the political sphere. This seems to be all the more remarkable as his term of service is drawing to a close. Especially since August 2, when he notified the nation of his desire to return to private life, Mr. Coolidge has given Americans an impressive example of the value of a strong character.

Public men and politicians come and go, but it will be found in the long run that none of them acquires so much influence as the man who can speak to the people with the weight of an assured and consistent character.

There are, of course, men of showy abilities and fascinating personalities who appear for a time to run away with everything. But great as is their charm, wonderful as is the following which they so easily gather, their display of fireworks usually fades and falls while the fixed stars of the public men of strong and steadfast character continue to shine.

HOME OWNERSHIP

PENNSYLVANIA, according to census bureau statistics, ranks thirty-first among the forty-eight states in home ownership. This seems far down the ladder for a state that is first in many things, but further investigation into the facts shows the state's position to be highly satisfactory.

Forty-five of each 100 families in Pennsylvania own the homes in which they live. No doubt there are many who have been under the impression that the percentage of home ownership was far lower.

It is not merely an accident that industrial states fall behind agricultural states in this particular. Immigrant labor and a large thriftless and shiftless class cut down the percentage of the industrial community. The farmer buys a home with his farm and usually pays less for both than the urbanite pays for a home alone.

Though a predominately industrial state, Pennsylvania leads Illinois, Massachusetts, New York and other industrial states in home ownership, a fact that reflects the traditional Pennsylvania prosperity and thrift. And thrift and prosperity are growing with home ownership in the Keystone state.

As home ownership tends to create economic and political stability it is something to strive for. It is described as a guarantee of good citizenship and makes for responsible government, according to the principles of political science.

The Way OF THE World

PROPER WRATH

Senatorial wrath is often roused on pretexts too slight. The ability to be roused to anger in a hurry and start an investigation over night appears to be necessary equipment for the average member of the United States senate. Now and then, however, senatorial wrath strikes a responsive chord and we all take the pitch. It was pleasant enough the other day to find senators in committee expressing their righteous indignation before some representative book publishers on the subject of the high prices of useless books. An outspoken Tennessee senator exclaims that at Christmas time he has to pay two dollars for a book that isn't worth "two bits". The fact is that many or most of the books that the thinking public really wants cost $3.50 or $5. And now and then—or oftener—the bolder publishers spring a two-volume biography at $10 for the set.

Happily there is now a developing movement among certain publishers to publish good books at a cheaper price. They should have every encouragement. Book prices for many years have been fatally high.

BETTERMENT

There is much conversation about bettering the world. There is much loose talk about movements to cure or to elevate or to change in some fashion or other. Now and then there is a movement based on the proper mixture of humanitarianism and common sense, backed by a scientific knowledge, which demands and deserves the attention of all. WHY LINCOLN WON

"When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the legislature of Illinois and was badly beaten.

"He then entered business—failed—and spent 17 years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

"He married a woman who was a constant trial to him, entirely uncongenial in temperament.

"He ran for Congress and was beaten.

"He was a candidate for the United States Senate, and was defeated.

"In 1856 he sought the nomination as vice president and failed.

"Two years later he lost to Douglas in the election of a United States senator.

"Yet Abraham Lincoln became President of the United States—and one of its greatest Presidents."

Land of Opportunity.
$13, then $525.
200 Replace 2,000.
One American Plant.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

MILWAUKEE, May 19—America is the country of opportunity and Milwaukee is one of the best American cities. All over America are opportunities, visible to the majority, when it is too late to seize them. What everybody knows is not so valuable.

For instance, consider the baby carriage business that C. J. Smith managed in Malwaukee up to 1887.

Fifty thousand dollars would have bought it. A. O. Smith inherited it, and made bicycle parts.

In 1904 the A. O. Smith corporation was formed and L. R. Smith, grandson of C. J., took charge. His father put $85,000 and others put $95,000 more into the corporation.

L. R. Smith did new things, making frames for automobiles, keeping up with the times, and ahead of them.

Time passed, and in 1923 J. E. Uihlein advised this writer and other friends, "buy stock in the A. O. Smith corporation. A very able man, with new ideas is running it."

The stock sold then at $13 a share. A little later it sold at $525 a share, and five shares were given for one.

The baby carriage business that you could have bought in 1887 for $50,000 or in 1923 for $1,300,000, now sells on the Stock Exchange at $40,000,000.

Spend an hour in that Milwaukee plant on the edge of Lake Michigan, study the head of the business, and his methods, and you will know why this is a prosperous country.

The ablest American manufacturers could learn about mass production and labor savings, in L. R. Smith's plants.

One of his mills, making 35,000 automobile frames a week, for Chevrolet, using marvelous automatic machinery does with 200 men work that requires 2,000 men in other plants.

One automatic machine changing steel sheets into steel frames is 350 feet long. In one place machinery and 34 men handle 14,000 side bars and 30,000 cross bars, and drive 1,000,000 rivets per day.

Machines do the work, men look on. From the floor below, heavy steel rivets are blown up through thin pipes by air power, placed in the frames and fixed there, no hand touching anything.

There you see solved the problem raised by inadequate immigration.

At certain spots, the men, with literally nothing to do but look on, find it hard to stay awake, and it has actually been suggested that a mechanism be arranged to shake the floor on which they stand, at intervals to rouse them.

L. R. Smith makes pipes up to 26 inches in diameter, without heating, an achievement hitherto unknown. The cold steel sheets, 30 feet long are rolled into pipes and welded. And the weld, as proved by tests, is stronger than the unwelded metal.

One order under way calls for 400 miles of pipe.

And disinterested experts say that $2,000,000 worth of this new machinery pipe making has made junk of $100,000,000 worth of plants that would have been called the last word in efficiency five years ago.

Huge stills for "cracking" gasoline are also made by the welding process in that A. O. Smith plant. Manufacturers will know what that means in manufacturing economy.

These are days of wealth created by efficiency. Where Mr. Smith has 200 men doing the work of 2,000, and doing it easily. The risk of injury is reduced so that it stands as one to 40, under old methods.

Americans have decided to keep out immigration. Intelligence says "I'll show you how to get along without men."

You look at a machine 350 feet long, handling and producing 35,000 automobile frames a week, built with absolute perfection. Huge steel hands pick up the steel beams, turn them over, clip the edges, insert and fasten rivets.

You wonder that marvelously efficient, long-lasting automobiles can be sold at present prices, but remember, for one item, that painting an automobile frame, baking it so that it comes out with a beautiful coat of brilliant black enamel, costs for human labor, one and a half cents, and the labor is highly paid, if any pay can be called high, for labor producing such results.

Mr. Smith's institution, revolutionizing important branches of American industry, is one of many such plants throughout the nation. Our manufacturers, using their brains, relying on new methods, not on low wages, can undersell Europe, and Asia, the thinking brain, and the automatic machine are the real wealth producers.

This city, Milwaukee, should be visited by able Americans from every corner of this country. Every one of them would learn something.

The new Capitol boulevard, running west from Milwaukee to Madison, and 80 MILES LONG is a lesson to every city.

Here the public school gives the children a good education, the rich can buy no better, and for adults there are opportunities for the worker and especially for the investor.

See Milwaukee, a truly progressive American city.

Boston alone has streets narrow and crooked enough to please H. L. Mencken, but other towns equal Boston in the possession of people like that.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

FEAR AND COWARDICE

There is a difference between fear and cowardice.

Fear is a natural, instinctive shrinking from danger or the threat of danger. Almost all high-strung natures feel it at times.

Cowardice is the yielding to this fear so that we do some unworthy action or give way to an unworthy impulse.

The bravest are not those who know no fear, not those who are so hardened or stodgy that they have no such instinct, but those who, although they feel and sense the presence of danger, still go ahead and perform their duty.

That soldier is not the bravest who, lost to all sense of fear, rushes madly at the enemy and exposes himself unnecessarily, but he is the man who though trembling inwardly and shrinking in spirit yet he has the courage to perform his duty.

We do not know that Sergeant Jasper or Arnold Winkelread were senseless and impervious to danger. We prefer to think that although they knew and realized the peril of their deed they still had heroism enough to perform it.

Courage is not based upon the lack of fear, but upon the conquest of fear by higher motives.

The bravest deeds probably have been done by those who were terribly afraid yet so terribly in earnest that they went ahead in spite of their fears.

Fear is a natural shrinking and a normal sense of danger.

If we constantly repress fear the feeling banks itself up in us until we go to pieces. But if we acknowledge that we are afraid, yet still persist in doing what we should do in spite of fear, the danger is not so great.

Weak and timid women have often performed signally heroic acts under the influence of mother love or some other great emotion, because they would not give way to their fears.

It is a great thing to be unafraid, but it is greater to be afraid yet to stand firmly by our higher convictions.

A soldier was once asked whether he had any sense of fear. He replied: "Do you think I am a fool. Of course I am afraid." Many a man has gone forward and done some heroic act while all the time he was trembling inwardly with fear.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

Perhaps as a mark of the persistent desire of the German people for a Rapprochement with America and perhaps for some other reason, Dr. Otto H. F. Vollbehr, of Berlin, has presented to the Library of Congress of this Nation a very valuable and interesting collection of "Printers' Marks." The Doctor makes the gift on behalf of Frau Vollbehr and himself.

These so-called "Printers' Marks" are the symbols attached either to the "Colophons" (finishing touches) of books or inserted in upon the title pages for the purpose of identifying the printer or publisher. They are in effect trade marks, and register the fact that a particular book was printed by a particular craftsman or firm.

At the beginning which means going back almost to the beginning of printing in Europe, the marks were used to protect the printer, or publisher, against the piracy of his rivals. The best artistic talent available was frequently employed to design them, especially when the use of marks and devices as ornaments came to be realized.

The earliest marks frequently took the form merely of an initial or monogram, added to the "Colophon," but when the marks came to be transferred to the title-page, they were made more elaborate, and the transition to marks serving the purpose of pure ornamentation was easy.

A history of "Printers' Marks" is, in one of its aspects, a history of the spread of printing, it is also a chapter in the history of art.

The Vollbehr collection contains about ten thousand such "Printers' Marks" and is the largest one known to be in existence. Some of the "Colophons" are as old as the art of printing.

This is one collection which the astute collector, Dr. Rosenbach, did not corral.

Pockets.

I think a grown-up man should keep
Something in his pockets deep.
Like gum or chocolate cigers
Or lollypops or maple bars
Or paper dolls or paper caps
For little girls and little chaps.

I care not who the man may be
If wise to childhood's ways is he
Then he must know those eager eyes
Are always seeking a "surprise!"
And every night they wait to see
What in that pocket deep may be.

Even the childless man must know
That wheresoever he may go,
On business or a social call,
He must encounter youngsters small
And he should be prepared to say:
"See what I've brought for you today!"

Pockets are such mysterious things,
To them a fiscination clings
And, oh, the joy they can provide
If one has thought to slip inside
Some little trinket from the shops
Or sticks or gum or lollypops!

C. B. D.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

LINDBERGH AGAIN

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, you may have noticed, is one of my specialties. I am convinced that he is the best, most substantial and most genuine hero for everyday worship that any nation ever produced. I am confident that he will not grow shoddy or cheap from long wear.

It is one thing to be a hero for a few weeks. It is another thing to be a young hero who must continue to be a hero for years, perhaps for a long lifetime. I cannot help comparing the heroism of Lindbergh to that of Richard Pearson Hobson, who was one of the most wildly acclaimed heroes this nation ever enjoyed, in 1898. Mr. Hobson's status of national hero did not last long. He yielded to the temptation to permit the girls to kiss him, and when he had been kissed by many thousands the nation didn't want him for a hero any more. I don't blame Hobson a bit. He may have chosen the better part. What lasting adulation could surpass in value a million enthusiastic kisses from the lips of the nation's fairest?

But Lindbergh doesn't allow any kissing. He maintains his dignity, which is a wonderful thing for so young a man to do. And he doesn't permit himself to be exploited vulgarly for pay. He's the most heroic hero of them all.

Now Lindbergh is going to Europe again, by air. I'm all for it. I think the whole scheme is conceived in good sense, good taste and good judgment.

In this column, some weeks ago, I suggested that Mr. Lindbergh be sent about the world as the American ambassador of goodwill, to visit every country on earth. Some of my readers wrote me that this would be shameful risking of the young hero's life. I could see their point of view, but I still thought it a great scheme, both from the standpoint of Lindbergh and from the standpoint of our national and humanitarian interests. Now the plan seems to be the way to accomplishment.

Of course Lindbergh will visit Sweden, the land of his fathers. Sweden will take him to her heart. The Swedes are among the greatest people on this round globe, but they do not make as much noise as some of them, so they are not generally estimated at their true worth. I lived among the Scandinavians in Minnesota for three years, and married the daughter of two natives of Sweden. So I speak with authority when I say that the longer and better you know the Swedes, the better you like them.

Lindbergh will make the crossing safely, and will demonstrate the advantages, during the warmer months, of the far northern route to Europe. Before he is much older I expect to see Lindbergh cross to Europe over the North Pole. That's a pioneering job for his Viking spirit.

Memorial For Firemen Sunday

Firemen To Attend Service On Sunday Evening At Highland U. P.

FIVE NAMES ADDED TO MEMORIAL ROLL

Annual memorial service for the firemen of this city will be held Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Highland U. P. church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the church, who will have for his topic "Answering the Alarm."

The services are planned primarily for the city firemen, but the veteran firemen of other years, the mayor and council, the members of the city police force and the public in general are also invited. It is especially desired that the veteran firemen of the city, who were the pioneers in the fighting of fires in this community, be present.

The services in particular commemorate the death of five firemen during the past year. The men whose memory will be especially honored on Sunday evening were William J. Spurrier, William E. Hileman, John N. Hammond, Joseph S. Trax and Edward Mosley.

It is desired that all firemen, veteran, paid or volunteer, who are planning to attend the services be at the Park avenue department not later than 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of marching from the fire engine house to the Highland U. P. church for the services in a body. They will be accompanied by the city officials, including the mayor, members of council, city police officers and veterans of the fire service of the city.

The program follows:

General Wood, to be devoted to the cure and final elimination of leprosy, is now being raised. One thousand persons representing the foremost social and financial interests of Chicago, sat at luncheon the other day and heard the story of this great effort. In time we shall all hear it and we should give heed.

VISION AGAIN

From time to time it has been pleasant to write in these columns the story of a man who has had the great-heartedness and the capacity and the courage to translate some splendid vision into practical reality. A little while ago Charles Nash, maker of motor cars in Kenosha, Wis., gratified and electrified his appreciative townsmen by offering $400,000 for a new Y. M. C. A. building in that small city, if his fellow townsmen would raise a similar amount. Four hundred thosand dollars is a magnificent gift, especially in a city no larger than Kenosha. Best of all is the appreciation on the part of Nash of the supreme fact that a movement which deals exclusively with the problem of building character—through mind, body and spirit—into young men and boys is the world's greatest work.

A TEST

One of the real tests of civilization is the growing ability of rich men to think in terms of millions as they confront the great problems of human betterment.

RED STAR LINER AND FREIGHTER CRASH HEAD-ON

freighter was inbound from West coast ports.

Among the passengers on the Pennland is M. Conway, of Philadelphia.

The wireless message from Capt. Doughty, of the Pennland did not state whether there was any alarm or panic among the passengers. The Anniston City carries a crew of 57. The freighter is believed to have suffered the greater damage in the crash with the 16,000 ton liner. Both vessels have watertight bulkheads and compartments and are constructed of steel.

Taking Water Rapidly

New York, May 19—Wireless reports this afternoon from the freighter, Anniston City, which rammed the liner Pennland in a heavy fog off Sandy Hook early today, stated that the freighter was still taking water rapidly, but was in no immediate danger.

Capt Killett, commanding the freighter, wirelessed that the stem of the vessel had been badly twisted and that much water was entering through the fore peak. There are 57 persons aboard the freighter, according to a check-up this afternoon.

The Pennland carries a crew of 207 and about the same number of passengers. Officials of the Red Star company, which owns the ship, were preparing to transfer the passengers to other vessels. No one was injured.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENE RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

THE GRACEFUL HANDLING OF HANDS AUGMENTS BEAUTY.

There are many women who forget the importance of their hands until wrinkles, discolorations—all the indisputable signs of age, confront them and visibly proclaim their years and their neglect.

There are other women who thoughtfully, carefully protect the surface, by hand bleach and anti-wrinkle creams and lotions ,and milk and rose balm-protectives to keep their hands soft, white and smooth, and yet forget that there is more to real beauty than the exterior of loveliness.

There is beauty of movement, which will remain with you forever and this perhaps is the loveliness most difficult to do without, most simple to acquire and most frequently neglected.

It is easy enough to pat in creams and lotions; your dressing table may be laden with jars and bottles, with rouge and manicure implements, but whatever beauty, patience, scientific care and skill may develop, it will be nullified if your hand motions are stiff and heavy, your fingers all thumbs, and your movements unrelated and awkward.

You see, as we progress we find more and more that there is something—a component part of liveliness, undoubtedly which looks beyond exterior perfection for its ultimate beauty.

Have you ever noticed the slim, pale beauty of wrists and tapering fingers that distinguish the masterpieces of art at the museums?

Nothing could show more completely the loveliness we should all aspire to. Perhaps the first of all charms I advise you to cultivate is the grace of repose. Fidgety hands are destructive, not only to your nerves but to your appearance as well.

Next you must remember that the grace of gentleness is most essential to charm! Think always that your hands are proud parts of your beauty and you will never be guilty of such ugly movements as snatching or grabbing. Place things—don't fling them. Make each motion an arc, the part of a curve for linear movements are always sharp. Curved ones are soft and lovely.

I think that the prettiest description of hands I have ever heard comes from the Kashmiri Love Song—"Pale hands, pink tipped, like lotus buds afloat." It does express completely all the softness, the charm and the gentleness which lovely hands may possess.

Try relaxing your hands for beauty. Try to imitate with your arms the undulations of a swan's neck. Raise them shoulder high and lower them gradually in a succession of drooping curves to your sides so relaxed that you seem to feel the pressure of the air.

Shape your finger tips gently every time you wash your hands and pat in a little hand cream, a rich semi-flush pasteurized cream, if you prefer and press gently at the head of each nail to cultivate and develop the slim, taper-like fingers which are so charming and artistic.

I remember the admonition of my teacher long ago.

"Compose your hands, Mademoiselle."—Give yourself that same command for if you develop ease and grace of movement, beauty has been attained. And remember that soft, peaceful motions transform your hands into lyrics of grace and loveliness.

ATTENDS BIG SAFETY MEETING

E. J. Wilson, Safety Agent Of Pennsylvania Returns From Buffalo

E. J. Wilson, safety agent for the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad, has just returned from Buffalo, where he was a delegate to the annual convention of the safety section of the American Railways Association.

Mr. Wilson says that there were over 500 delegates in attendance at the convention, representing all class 1 railroads of the United States and Canada. The convention was of the official organization for the sustaining and devising the wonderful safety campaigns for all the railroads.

In speaking of the prevalence of highway accidents while accidents in industries have been reduced to a minimum, Mr. Wilson said that it must be remembered that the great safety records are made in industries because the employes are under some kind of compulsion to practice safety, while on the highways many disregard all rules of the road, never fearing the consequences. More compulsion must be placed on auto drivers, stricter enforcement of motor laws before accidents will be reduced.

Building Held Up Awaiting Approval School Bond Issue

Building of an addition to the Plaingrove consolidated school building is being held up through failure of the state department to approve a recent bond issue. There appears to be no question but that the bond issue will be approved, but the department claims to have so much business on hand that it has not been reached.

While the school board has decided who is to have the contract, the papers cannot be actually executed until the bond issue is approved. The school board is very anxious to have the bond issue approved as quickly as possible, in order that the new addition may be completed in time for opening school.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND
BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

SOMETHING TO LAUGH ABOUT

It was plain to be seen Peter had won Mother Flame-Wing's confidence. She leaned toward him and spoke close to his ear:

"I love to listen to my babies' chirping, but I wish they would learn not to be so noisy. It worries me half to death. Their father and I have taken every precaution to hang the cradle in a safe place so far out on the limb that nobody dare go near it for fear of falling.

"Neither he nor I would for all the world let our address be known except to our best friends. We always watch out to see that no suspicious character is about when we enter the house. And yet the children upset everything.

"Theye squeal when they see us coming with their food; they cry when they are left alone; they whimper when they want some honey. Even above the wind can their shrill little voices be heard. The only way to keep them still is for me to sit upon the nest. Oh yes, when it rains they never make a sound. The splashing of the big drops scares them."

"Ha! Ha! Ha! He! He! He!" chuckled Mr. Oriole, interrupting Mother Flame-Wing's story, and he twittered so long and loud that Peter and Mother Flame-Wing were surprised and, if the truth be told, the lady bird was a bit offended.

"I must say, neighbor, I can't imagine what I could have said that is so very funny," said she, trying to be dignified. "I was simply telling the truth, and I think you are rather rude to sit there and laugh at me, and before a perfect stranger, too."

"What is so amusing, Oriole? Tell us the joke, do," begged Peter, trying to spare the little lady bird's feeling. "I know you're not laughing at Mrs. Flame-Wing, but what does amuse you? And for goodness sake don't chuckle so hard. You will burst in a minute."

Oriole had puffed out until he looked twice his natural size, but at the boy's words he suddenly straightened himself out and stared at his boy friend a bit alarmed.

"Why, I mustn't do that," he said. "I always forget myself when I chuckle, and it's a bad plan. I'm glad you brought me to my senses, young two-legs! Something terrible may happen to me some day.

"I beg your pardon, Mrs. Flame-Wing. I hope I have not hurt your feelings. I wasn't laughing at you. What you said was very wise and true. I was just thinking about something."

Oriole seemed about to go off in another fit of merriment, and Mrs. Flame-Wing and the boy spoke at the same time.

"What?" they chorused.

Building Walls Of Nurses' Home

Work Is Progressing Rapidly At Jameson Memorial Hospital Building

Efforts are being concentrated on the walls of the nurses' home at the Jameson Memorial hospital, located on West Leasure avenue, since the completion of the pent houses Friday morning, according to a statement made this morning by Thomas Blair, superintendent of construction for the Boldt Construction company of Cleveland. Work on the home will be rushed as fast as possible in order that concreters can start to pour the second floor of the building.

"Although it looks almost as if construction work is standing still," comments Mr. Blair, "yet the building is going up as fast as 125 men can push it. From the street one cannot get any idea of the immensity of the structure. One must wander through it before he fully appreciates the efforts of the workmen. I believe that we have done exceptionally well, considering the adverse weather conditions which we had to buck during the winter months."

Men are almost finished with laying out the interior partitions. This work will be completed in a few days and the tile partitionings will be started.

Racing Ordeal And Pride For Drivers' Wives

MRS. EARL COOPER

By BONITA WITT
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 19.—When the starter's flag drops and the tiny cars entered in the annual 500-mile automobile race at the speedway streak down the straight-away, there will be a small group of women whose eyes will follow faithfully the hurtling little cars.

They are the wives of the drivers.

Mrs. Earl Cooper, wife of the veteran driver, voices the sentiments of most wives of the men who risk their lives in pursuit of fame on the race tracks of the country when she says: "I can't say I enjoy watching a race. When they start it's terrible—you can't bear to look at the track—then, after awhile, you get used to it and you don't mind watching them race around. But all the time, in the back of your mind, you're thinking, 'It may be Earl who'll be killed next!'"

Mrs. Cooper, even if she doesn't enjoy watching her husband risk his life, is mighty proud of his ability in handling a car.

"Of course, Earl's a wonderful driver," she says. Then Jane Cooper, who could give odds to a lot of prize-winning beauties and still come out ahead, shows she has a sense of humor by adding, "I would think that—most wives do.

"And it's grand when he wins."

Rev. Pearson To Discuss Authority

Will Speak On The Authority Of Christ In Trinity Church Sunday Morning

In three great churches, the principle of authority is being attacked, what is the meaning of it? Are we drifting toward Bolchevism? From other quarters there comes the insistent demand that authorities enforce the law. Officials are accused of being either spineless or corrupt. What are we to make of this? When Christ came to our world as a preacher of righteousness He found Imperial Rome exerting a certain type of authority very successfully, but He adopted a new kind of method. What then is the source or seat of authority according to His teaching? These are some of the questions which will serve to bring out the teaching of Our Savior regarding authority, a much discussed modern topic, and the subject of the sermon in Trinity church tomorrow morning at the 11 o'clock service.

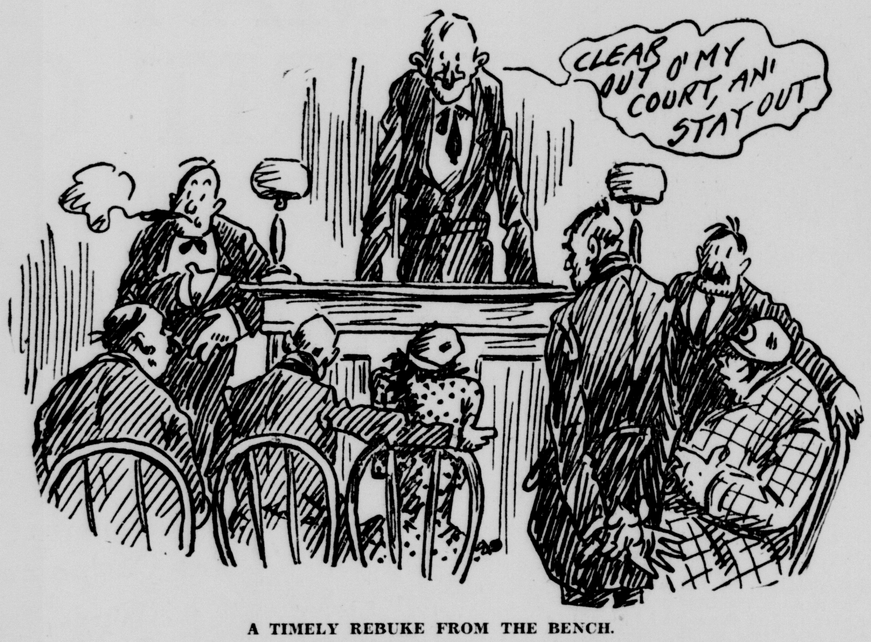
ABE MARTIN On Divorce



A TIMELY REBUKE FROM THE BENCH.

"Both o' you clear out o' here an' stay out," roared Judge Pusey, after listenin' t' argyments in th' Sniffin' divorce case. "You folks hain't been married long enough t' even' git acquainted, an' here you are tryin' t' kick out. This court hain't no clearin' house fer rumble seat marriages. Come back in a couple o' years an' I'll talk t' you. I hain't goin' t' split no more couples up till th' husban' and wife have at least tried t' pick out a go-cart t'gether. t' say nothin' o' bedroom wallpaper." After a ripple o' laughter Judge Pusey continued, "Women are so used t' takin' things home on approval an' exchangin' things, an' backin' out o' bargains that they try to use th' same system with husban's. An' men are so egotistical that they imagine any woman ough t' be tickled t' death t' marry 'em. Men don't go after divorces like th' women do. Men figure that they kin keep away from home, an' have ther little flirtations an' outside diversions without goin' t' th' trouble an' expense of gittin' a divorce. Often if ther prosperous enough they'll maintain two establishments but th' great majority o' wives hain't that way. They want a lot o' alimony an' a chance t' pick up somebuddy that suits 'em better. Most o' them are th' same about husban's as they are about hats an' fur coats. They tire o' them. A woman never selects a hat or fur coat like it's th' last one she's ever goin' t' buy an' I guess most o' them feel th' same way about husban's. An ugly temper is th' great, blightin' thing that splits most couples up. I've had couples before me that wuz so homely an' rich that you'd think nothin' short o' death would separate 'em. Then I'd find out that it wuz her temper or his temper that wuz comin' between 'em. Only last week I ordered a husban' t' go on a liver tonic an' a wife t' have her teeth X-rayed. One o' th' fiercest divorce cases I ever had wuz traced directly t' th' wife's teeth. These tempers show up in th' mornin' specially if the cellar light has been left on overnight or an egg is a little off or th' furnace allowed t' go out. If high tempered couples would keep away from one another till noon they could prob'ly worry thro' th' rest o' th' day purty good but it's tryin' t' eat breakfast t'gether that destroys their happiness. That's a hazardous undertakin' fer th' most normally constituted couples. I'm thinkin' some o' puttin' an X-ray machine in my court, fer anybuddy with a poisoned system soon wrecks a home. Th' effect o' bobbed hair is growin' quite perceptible in our divorce courts. Wives wuz fer more stable when they had big wads o' hair t' occupy ther minds. An' couples marry on too short an acquaintance. Girls'll marry fellers they've never seen out side a roadster, while a fool of a boy'll hook up with a girl without knowin' whether she's got any ears or more than one eye or any sense, jest so her knees are full an' prominent."

Marshal Chang was quoted as replying to Japan that he was determined to fight.

Since the decisive defeat of the northern army in the Shantung peninsula it has been falling back upon Peking in a badly demoralized condition. There have been thousands of desertions.

The advance guard of the nationalists is reported almost at the gates of Peking.

With special sport equipment, no smarter car than this

Smart as a racing craft to begin with. Long and low . . . with rakish, youthful lines. But with special sport equipment . . . it's even smarter. The peer of any car in its class . . . this All-American Six.

Six wire wheels . . . their colors contrasting with body shades. Spares carried jauntily forward in special fender wells. A trunk rack behind . . . suggesting a series of week-end journeys. All that you see and admire on America's finest custom-built cars.

There's real style, if you ever saw it. There's swank . . . snap . . . personality. Reflecting the speed and drive of its brute of an engine . . . its change of pace and its wonderful handling ease.

Add to all this the charm of bodies by Fisher. The deep-cushioned comfort and luxury that Fisher bodies provide. Add, also, the stamina and reliability resulting from All-American principles of design. Then you'll find the All-American leagues ahead of any rival. Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, May 19.—May 19 is expected to be central date of cool period following severe storm period centering on 15; during this cool period a northern cold wave, reaching down as far south as would be seasonably normal, will occur; during this cool period, near 19, killing frosts will threaten northern Pacific slope, mountain country and as far south as latitude 43 in Great Central valleys; these forecasted conditions are of normal occurrence during the average season and would therefore not be expected to do any unusual damage; more damage is probable during this period, near and east of Meridian 90, by precipitation that will not be needed but will further delay Spring work and cause conditions favorable to insect propagation later in season. This will be a wet weather insect season as a rule.

Storm waves of moderate intensity are expected to cross continent in central trans-continental storm path during weeks centering on 22 and 26, making a stormy period 21 to 27, inclusive, but not with severe nor dangerous features; this period is expected to average about to a little above normal temperatures and precipitation generally over the continent; most precipitation near meridian 90 and least from Rockies east to meridian 97 will be expected during this period. Last half of May will average much better cropweather than has first half of month and a large percentage of May 15 to 31 will be expected to be of the intensive growing kind of cropweather. After May 15, all farm work should be advanced as fast and as thoroughly as possible, keeping in mind that frosts will threaten northern country near 19. General features of expected June cropweather will appear in next issue.

For those interested, even tho government bureau officials disclaim that moon influences weather features by its position and movements, at the same time when they are forced to acknowledge Mr. Moon as the chief cause of ocean tides, the following will be the order and time of occurrence of Moon quarter phases. New Moon (dark of Moon) May 19; first quarter May 26; Full (light of moon) June 3; last quarter June 11; new moon June 17; first quarter June 24; at new moon, the moon is directly in line with centers of earth and sun at a point between those bodies; when this phase occurs at a time when the moon is near the ecliptic or latitude on the earth where sun is directly overhead, an eclipse of the sun occurs. At full moon, the moon is in direct line with centers of sun and earth but on side of earth farthest away from sun; when full moon occurs at a time when moon is near the ecliptic an eclipse of moon occurs. I am sure that I know in what manner the moon's relative position cause different effects upon different localities of the earth's surface and expect to discuss this subject in future weekly bulletins.

North Beaver School Boy Writes Story Of Adventure

Every boy when he reaches the age of 12 and has been spending some time studying about other countries has day dreams concerning adventures in some of the lands of which he has read or studied. What one boy thought is told in the story "An Adventure in Southern Africa" written by James L. Gardner, aged 12 a pupil in Grade 8 North Beaver Consolidated school. The story follows:

An Adventure in South Africa.

When we were graduated in the year of 2040 ten of the boys of our class decided to go to Southern Africa to explore the jungle region.

We decided to go by dirigible which would take us there in about six hours. We planned to leave the United States about August so that we would have some time to visit our friends before leaving.

One bright morning in August we bade our friends good-bye and went to the air port where our dirigible was being made ready.

We called our dirigible the "Covered Wagon of Africa." It could travel over eight hundred miles per hour.

After we were out of sight of land all that we could see was the waves of the ocean beneath us and the heavens above. All this seemed very lonesome but after about six hours travel we were in sight of Africa.

As we grew closer we could see the large birds and the green palm tree leaves. All of this seemed very beautiful for the leaves of the trees of United States were beginning to die.

Since we were all very anxious to see the land we wandered about half a mile away before dinner. While wandering around we came upon a river loaded with six or eight bark canoes containing black men who were the natives of the continent, coming towards us.

We hurried back to our dirigible and got our guns, for we did not know whether these men were savages or not.

As the natives came toward our dirigible we noticed that they were very curious about us. We also noticed that these natives were carrying white things which we called bones but later we found that it was ivory they had brought for us. We gave the natives some beads and trinkets in return.

After trading the gifts our gang was on friendly terms with the natives.

The natives invited us to our homes which were made of mud and sticks. We had our dinner with us so we sat under a palm tree and ate it while the natives ate their dinner which consisted of raw meat which they had gotten from the wild animals of the jungle just outiside of their huts.

After the dinner was over the natives took us back into the jungle where we saw many poisonous snakes, gorillas, apes and monkeys and tigers of which we took pictures with our cameras.

As we went on into the jungle we came upon a mother tiger and five little tigers. When the mother tiger saw us she headed for one of our gang but we managed to save him by shooting the mother tiger.

We made up our minds to take the little tigers to some zoo in the United States.

We carried our tigers back to the dirigible in a basket which the natives had made from sticks.

By this time our gang was getting tired and homesick and wished to go home. We had just been in Africa for 36 hours.

We decided to wait until morning before starting because we didn't desire to start at night.

The next morning we visited the natives and gave them some candy and stuff that we had with us.

We went back to our dirigible and started for the United States.

We were in sight of the United States in about five and a half hours from the time we left Africa.

After landing the first thing that we did was to take the tigers to a zoo where they could be given care. The tigers were very very scarce therefore we were awarded one thousand dollars for finding them.

We next went back to our dirigible and went to New Castle. It was here that we left out dirigible after paying a bill of five hundred dollars for the trip.

We sold our ivory for two thousand dollars and then after dividing the money we departed for home never to forget our experiences in Africa.

ASKS FOR SPECIFICATIONS

Specifications for grading of Garfield avenue between Wilmington avenue and Mercer street, were asked Friday by council.

How's Your Credit?

The New Castle Credit Exchange is affiliated with the National Credit Association, having offices in nearly every city of the United States.

The operation of the New Castle Credit Exchange is as follows:

Each co-operating member turns into the office of the local exchange the experience of all accounts on his books, cash or credit—good, bad and otherwise—they are all there, everybody who buys from the members of the Exchange. Upon making application for credit accommodation, the member of the New Castle Credit Exchange immediately gets in touch with the Exchange office and almost instantly is given a report on the manner in which the applicant has been paying his or her accounts.

If you have been paying promptly, you'll have no difficulty—but, if you're careless in your paying habits, you'll probably have considerable trouble in opening a credit account.

Annual Awards At High School

Many Students Get Recognition At Ceremonies At School On Friday

SPECIAL HONORS GIVEN TO SOME

The Senior High school paid due honor to over 150 of its students in the "Award Day" chapel exercises of the school on Friday.

Medals, cash awards and certificates certifying honorable work in their respective lines, were presented to the students of the different departments, and the winners of various contests. School letters were given to the members of both the boys' and girls' basketball teams.

Principal Frank L. Orth was in charge of the special exercises, and was ably assisted by the Assistant Principal Elmer R. Patterson.

Commercial Department

The commercial department honor students were first to receive recognition from the school. H. D. Book, head of this department, presented the awards. Clarence Murphy and Mae Cromie received the highest awards in this section, the former having won the bookkeeping special contest at the recent Lawrence county commercial contest and the latter the bookkeeping second year contest. Mr. Murphy and Miss Cromie each received a handsome medal for their showing in the event.

Numerous other awards were also made to the commercial students having achieved excellence in typewriting. Four students received gold pins offered by the Remington Typewriter company for their ability to type 55 words a minute. Nine students received the same company's selver pin for typing 40 words a minute, while certificates were given to twenty-four typists for accomplishing the 25-word-a-minute record.

In the awards offered by the Underwood Typewriter company one student received the gold pin for typing 60 words a minute, two students receiving silver pins for the 50-words record, fifteen receiving the bronze medal for the 40-words section and sixteen winning certificates for the 30-words accomplishment.

Latin Honors

Latin department honors were offered next. Miss Mary Van Divort, head of the department, introduced Harold Sankey, consul of the Senatus Romanus, to the students and he proceeded to make the presentations. Medals, varying in their importance, were presented to the winners.

In the Virgil class honors, Mary McGeehan received the summa cum laude award, Gertrude Potter, valedictorian of the coming June class, magna cum laude and Barbara Sleigh, Mildred Zahniser, Mary Elizabeth Gibson and Alene Hyde, the award for the cum laude distinction.

Latin awards to Junior high school students were as follows: Summa cum laude to Hugh R. Schmidt; magna cum laude to Angeline Castrucchi and cum laude to John Chemerda.

Science Department

Ralph Weide of the high school's science department then awarded the American Chemical Society's prize of ten dollars in gold to Miss Alene Hyde, the winner of the organization's essay contest conducted recently. This is the third successive year that the local school has won a first place honor in the contests staged by the chemical society.

Other Awards

Principal Orth then introduced the president of the local chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, Jos. Rice, who presented his organization's annual prize for the best all-around boy studying chemistry, to Louis Fauhl.

The Lawrence County W. C. T. U. essay awards were then presented by Mrs. D. F. Balph and Mrs. J. B. McClaren. Three prizes, a first of three dollars, a second of two dollars and a third of one dollar, were presented to each class.

The winners of the different classes follows: For the seniors, first, Alice Mae Huffman; second, Elmer Williams, and third, Lucy Rosati. For the juniors, first, Martin Ignatz; second, Edward McClymonds, and third, James Gardner. For the sophomores, first, Mary Louise Rae; second, Laura Cowmeadow, and third, Lucy DeCarlo.

The members of the past year's boys' and girls' varsity basketball teams were honored next. They were presented the letters "N. C." by Prof. Orth.

Those receiving letters were, for the boys' team: Captain Paul Reider, Tony Ostrosky, Arthur Sillman, Bruce Alexander, Paul Cuba, Johnny Johnson, Clark McClelland, Mike Kulich, Glenn Thomas, Charles Richards and Manager Ralph Bishton.

Patterson had charge of the perfect attendance part of the program.

Highest Point In Lawrence County

State Geological Survey Names Points Of Highest Altitude

There is generally considerable discussion in any neighborhood as to what is the highest point of altitude in that locality. If we should ask what is the highest point in Lawrence county we would like to get at least a half dozen answers. To allow the question to be answered by the Pennsylvania Topographic and Geologic Survey seems quite an authorative way of answering the question.

According to the State Geologic Survey the highest spot in Lawrence county lies in Slippery Rock township and south of Princeton where an elevation of 1,440 is recorded. There are many areas in the county above 1,220, along the northern edge of the county reaching 1,320, one spot northeast of New Castle being 1,340.

The highest point in the state according to the Geological Survey is undoubtedly on Negro mountain in Southern Somerset county, the whole mountain for a length of five miles and a width of 2½ miles being above 3,000 feet, culminating in three places above 3,200 feet, the highest being 3,220 feet. The next highest point is on the Allegheny mountain in the northwest corner of Bedford county where Blue Knob has an elevation of 3,136 feet. In the western corner of Fredom township, Blair county there is an unnamed knob 3,000 feet above sea level and in the southeast corner of Springfield township of Fayette county there are two unnamed knobs on the crest of Laurel Hill that reach 3,000 feet. These are believed to be the only spots in the state 3,000 feet above sea level.

Until the topographic mapping of the state is completed (now less than 80 per cent finished) it will not be possible to give a complete list of the high points in the state. The survey is almost complete in 11 of the counties but lare areas remain to be surveyed in about 16 of the counties.

The highest lake in the state is given as Four Mile pond in Wayne county containing 70 acres and is 2,565 feet above sea level. Other lakes Sullivan Co., 2,320; Jean Lake, Lehigh Lake and Lake Rose in Luzerne county, 2,200; Eaglesmere, over 2,000. Conneaut Lake contains 928.5 acres and is at an altitude of 1,072. With few exceptions all the lakes of the state are above 1,000 feet.

Antiques Worth More Than Horses

Horse Sells For $4.50 While Old Quilt Brought $26.75

(International News Service)

GLEN ROCK, Pa., May 19.—Antiques are much more valuable in this modern age than horses, if one can form an opinion from the sale prices of both at a public sale recently held here.

A horse that from all appearances still had many days of work in it was sold to a high bidder for $4.50, while a spread made in 1848 sold for $18; a quilt, $26.75; one quart bottle, $8, and another for $3.50.

Police guards were asked for St. Louis pie wagons because of labor troubles. The other side said the bakers showed they had an awful crust to make such a request. However, the trouble proved to be a flash in the pan and the cops weren't really needed.

State Shipped Nearly 2,000,000 Bushels Of Apples

Franklin County Moves Into First Place With Adams Second

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 18.—Pennsylvania fruit growers shipped almost 2,000,000 bushels of apples during the past year, the state bureau of markets announced today after compiling reports on winter storage shipments.

About one-third of the output was sent to foreign countries, principally Great Britain, France, Germany, Scandinavian countries and South America.

More than 20 states in this country also received one or more cars during the past season. Shipments were made as far west as Wisconsin and as far south as Florida.

Franklin county moved into first place as the leading shipper of the state. Adams had held first place since 1925, but during the past season Franklin shipped 1,510 cars and Adams 1,265. Cumberland county was third with 431 cars and York fourth with 234. Other counties making carload shipments included Berks, 60; Bedford, 59; Blair, 50; Wyoming, 37, and Montgomery, 29 cars.

Biglerville in Adams county, which shipped 560 cars, continued as the heaviest shipping point. Waynesboro, with 413 cars, was second and Chambersburg third, with 407.

Costs Thousands To Maintain Speedways

Over $4,000 Already Spent On Pottstown Speedway For Opening Races

(International News Service)

POTTSTOWN, Pa., May 19—Few of the thousands who sit in the grandstands and thrill to the deeds of the auto knights who eat the dust of the speedways throughout the country ever consider the expense of conditioning those tracks for the races.

Take this city's one-mile dirt oval as an example. The management has already spent more than $4,000 to condition it for the opening races of the season on Decoration Day, May 30.

Twelve hundred gallons of special road oil have been used on the track. This coating will last only about two meets before another will be needed.

Fellow Rotarian:

Four million, eight hundred and eighty-seven thousand, four hundred-share day in street; prices crash; all records broken; ticker runs over hour behind; reaction is violent; stocks soar then collapse as fear of consequences of speculation grows.

You read the above headlines in your paper Thursday morning and it made you think of just what this stock market business meant to the county. Through the efforts of Joe Norris, we will have R. S. Richards of Kay, Richards & Co., brokers, of New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia and New Castle speak on "Stocks and the Stock Market."

This will be a very timely address and you are invited to bring your friends. Don't sell short until you hear this address.

Lee Calahan attended Bluefield, W. Va., Rotary with his brother Frank, a former member here. Ed Duff stopped in with the Indianapolis Rotarians. Herbert Peairs was up in the ninth ward with the New Wilmington Rotarians. Prexy Wallace attended in Somerville, N. J. Alf Chilton had a good time wtih the Newark Rotarians. John Meyer visited with Sharon. Our travelling ambassador, without portfolio, C. Herman Hess, visited East Pittsburgh, Wooster and Zanesville Rotary clubs.

Brown Is Visitor At Washington, D. C.

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 19.—Orville Brown, New Castle attorney is spending several days in Washington transacting business at the State Department.

During his stay he is being entertained by Harold Hunter, secretary to Congressman J. Howard Swick and Charles Wirsing, formerly of New Castle and now of Washington.

Within the last several days E. H. Porter, former United States marshal for the western district of Pennsylvania and Frank Kopriva, Beaver Falls mine operator, visited Washington and called on Secretary of Labor James J. Davis. They called at the office of Congressman Swick while in the city.

A jury, however, cannot return a rich man's self-respect or remove the sting of the world's contempt.

ANNOUNCEMENT
After more than thirty-one years of sojourning, we expect to move into our new and permanent home at
NUMBER TWENTY-SIX SOUTH MILL STREET
FRIDAY, JUNE FIRST and our operations will occupy a floor space of more than THIRTY-SIX HUNDRED SQUARE FEET
We organized December 1st, 1896, in the building located at the corner of East Washington and Water Streets, then owned by the late Samuel Dunn, and being numbered 128 East Washington Street, and outgrew our quarters in seven years and four months, when we moved across the street into the room now occupied by Wallace Ewing as a shoe store in the Johnson Building, remaining a full term of fifteen years to a day; and at that time, having been appointed Agent by the National Bank of Lawrence County for its new building then under construction, known as the Safe Deposit & Trust Building, at 14 North Mercer Street, we moved onto the second floor of the same, where we are now located and occupying the major portion of the floor.
Thus on June 1st after a continued, uninterrupted occupancy of nine years and two months in our present location, we will have concluded a total pilgrimage of thirty-one years and six months.
We believe our new location will be more convenient of access (being on the street floor) to our clientele, and we know our operations can be carried on with greater satisfaction, economy and dispatch.

Hoover Campaign In Indiana Cost $100,000, Claims

Manager For Senator Watson Estimates Hoover Forces Spent Considerable

SENATE COMMITTEE MAY OPEN INQUIRY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—An estimate that Herbert Hoover's friends spent $100,000 on newspaper advertising in his losing fight for Indiana's delegation to the Republican National convention will result in the senate presidential campaign committee making an extensive inquiry into publicity expenditure by all candidates for president, it was announced today.

The estimate of Hoover's publicity costs in Indiana was made by Bert M. Thurman manager for Senator James E. Watson, who defeated the secretary of commerce. Thurman estimated the Hoover advertising at $100,000 on the basis of his experience as a newspaper editor and the costs of Watson's advertising. Thurman said he published two ads for Watson and got a bill for $1,000. He added that Hoover advertisements appeared in nearly all of Indiana's 300 newspapers.

Thurman incidentally reported that Watson's expenditures in Indiana were $32,671. The Hoover expenditures already reported were approximately $40,000. The committee also was informed that the Hoover expenditures in Ohio totaled $37,759.

The committee adjourned its hearings until Monday, when it will convene at Raleigh, N. C., to hear testimony about charges that the Hoover and Governor Al Smith camps have made excessive expenditures in the Tarheel state.

George W. Conway, editor
Dear Sir:

Well, I have covered one small lap of my journey, that is, about 250 miles.

I left New Castle about 9:30 Wednesday morning and got a ride in a car which was being driven through from Detroit and going to Greensburg. We arrived in Greensburg at about 2:30, and the rest of the day I killed trying to get to Ligonier. I was just walking out of Ligonier when a man stopped and asked me to ride. When we got to talking he offered me a job in a parking camp.

Well, I took the job until I got my supper, a nice place to sleep and my breakfast. Then I told the man that I did not care for the job because my doctor had advised a change of climate for a very bad case of itching feet. So I proceeded to navigate.

After waiting about one hour for some one to give me a lift, I saw a large car coming up the road, so I hailed it and the gentleman stopped. When I had introduced myself he told me that he was H. J. Sines of 1509 East Washington street, division supervisor for the State Game Commission. With him I rode to Chambersburg.

He asked me where I was going, and I told him that I was going to New Castle. He seemed to think I was headed in the wrong direction, but I convinced him that if I traveled far enough in the same direction, I would finally reach New Castle.

The weather has not permitted me to take any pictures so far, but I hope to get some soon. Give my best to my friends, and I will drop you a line when I get a ship to somewhere.

Yours respectfully,
FRED M. FINNEFROCK,
Tourist at large.

Mandell-McLarnin Fight Postponed For Third Time

Tex Rickard Announces Postponement Of Bout Scheduled For Polo Grounds

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—The lightweight championship battle between Sammy Mandell, the Rockford, Ill., "sheik", and "Baby-Face" Jimmy McLarnin of the Pacific coast, which was scheduled for tonight, was postponed at noon today by Tex Rickard, promoter, because of unpromising weather conditions. It was the third postponement in as many days.

Rickard was unable to immediately set a new date for the fight, because dates in the near future conflict with fight shows billed by other local clubs.

If he fails to get an earlier date Rickard would have available next Thursday night—the regular night assigned to the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

Crook Pursues The Sioux

AFTER WIPING OUT GENERAL CUSTER AND FIVE TROOPS OF THE 7TH CAVALRY AT THE BATTLE OF THE LITTLE BIG HORN (JUNE 25, 1876), THE SIOUX HORDE BROKE UP INTO SEPARATE BANDS TO HUNT BUFFALO AND GATHER A STORE OF FOOD FOR THE COMING WINTER.

GEN. CROOK WITH A COLUMN OF CAVALRY PURSUED THE HOSTILES DOGGEDLY, BUT HIS QUARRY ELUDED HIM. THE INDIANS SWEPT THE COUNTRY OF GAME AS THEY PASSED, AND THE DAY CAME WHEN CROOK'S TROOPERS, FAR FROM THEIR BASE OF SUPPLIES, WERE FACING STARVATION.

CROOK SENT MAJOR ANSON MILLS WITH 150 MEN TO DEADWOOD CITY, A MINING TOWN IN THE BLACK HILLS, TO GET RATIONS FOR THE EXPEDITION. ON THE MARCH TO DEADWOOD, MILLS'S SCOUTS DISCOVERED A BIG SIOUX VILLAGE AT A PLACE CALLED SLIM BUTTES.

MILLS SURPRISED THE ENCAMPMENT, DROVE OFF THE HOSTILES, AND TOOK POSSESSION SEARCHING THE LODGES, THE SOLDIERS FOUND A LARGE SUPPLY OF FOOD WHICH THE SIOUX HAD STORED FOR THE WINTER. MILLS AT ONCE NOTIFIED CROOK OF HIS FIND.

TOMORROW—THE AFFAIR AT SLIM BUTTES.

Weather Unfavorable For Kentucky Derby

Heavy Track Is Prospect

Weatherman Kind To Crowd Of 70,000 Gathered For Crowning Race Classic

REIGH COUNT AND TORO FAVORITES

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 19.—torrential rainstorm broke over Louisville this morning, making it certain that the 54th running of the Kentucky Derby would be through a sea of mud.

The forecast is for unsettled weather with occasional showers. The storm was brief, but skies remained cloudy and overcast.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 19.—Staid, old Louisville, almost aloof in its atmosphere of Soutnern dignity of 364 days a year, awoke with a well bred yawn this morning, and,—presto! Louisville no longer was Louisville. It was a city that frothed and foamed and gibbered with the vulgar emotions and a big moment, a city that uttered a community bleat at the crack of dawn, leaped high in the air—and forgot to come down.

The fateful 365th day had arrived. The annual madness was on. The Kentucky Derby, great classic of the American turf, was back again for another giddy kaleidescope to be whirled before the eyes of 70,000 sportsmen, here to bend the knee in homage before the shrine of the thoroughbred.

The day was not appropriate for the knee-bending. Churchill Downs was hock deep in mud and, while early weather conditions today were disposed to be favorable, the track had reached the saturation point from recent rains and only a course in sun baths could reclaim it from its scourge of mud. But a little rain, a little mud might ruin an ordinary occasion. They proved only a circumstance in the carnival of color and gaiety that goes to make the Derby what it is and always must be.

Cosmopolitan Crowd

They did irk the temporary lodgers in the park somewhat, for it must be admitted that the Derby culls its devotees from all stratas—the good and the bad, the rich and poor, blue blood and red, veteran race-goer and veriest sap, mingled in the democratic brotherhood turf, kin for once in their common love of the horses. Society, wealth and official position were represented in the boxes; below, if not actually beneath them, was

Marathon Runners Compete Today For Olympic Positions

Estimate 260 Starters In Annual Long Beach Marathon Classic Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Upward of 50,000 spectators are expected to line the route of the second annual Long Beach marathon today between the start, at the New York Athletic Club, and the finish, at the City Hall, Long Beach.

A dreary, dismal drizzle, falling all day yesterday and continuing through the early morning hours today, cast an inauspicious cloud over the race for the 260 starters, among which are included the foremost long distance runners in America.

The chief prizes of the race are six posts on the American Olympic marathon team, which will represent the United States in the Olympic games at Amsterdam.

The three outstanding favorites in the race are Clarence De Mar, national marathon champion, a 40-year-old Sunday school teacher from Melrose, Mass.; Albert "Whitey" Michelsen, veteran marathon runner and winner of many long distance grinds in the past, from Portchester, N. Y., and Joie W. Ray, most famous of all the runners in the race, who has forsaken middle distance racing for long distance runs. Ray finished third in the Boston marathon.

Homestead Grays Play Here Today

New Castle Club Hopes To Even Count With Homestead Team

Having been stopped Thursday and Friday by rain, New Castle will romp with the Homestead Grays this afternoon at Centennial Field, which will be the second tilt between the aggregations this season, the Grays having taken the initial setto.

Smoky Joe Williams has been slated to hurl for the Homestead colored boys, and with eight victories under his right armpit he hopes to chalk up another today. He is a 52-year-old hurler and something of a phenom as a pitcher.

Manager George Textor has not yet selected his pitcher. Sunday New Castle will play at Canton.

Westminster Wins Track Meet At Grove City

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 19.—Loping in a quarter of a lap ahead in the deciding relay event, the Westminster college tracksters defeated the Grove City team in the dual meet run off at Grove City yesterday afternoon.

Holding the events between showers of rain the two teams battled on an even basis with the count in the last regularly scheduled event showing Westminster to be in the lead by a one point margin. By agreement the teams held the relay to decide the issue and Westminster came in with a 35 yard lead to take the meet.

The feature of the contest was the running of Mirtz of Westminster, who beside winning second high point score honors with a total of 15 points, ran his quarter of the relay event in the exceptional time of 51 seconds. Bartlebaugh of Grove City was high point man with a total of 16 points. Delahunty, another Westminster star, took third highest scoring honors with 11 points. Mirtz and Bartlebaugh were clearly the stars of the encounter.

Hemer, another Westminster man, stepped into the scoring column for the first time to take a first place in the 100 yard dash and a third in the 220-yard run. Westminster took eight of the fifteen first places and the pole vault ended in a triple tie with Delahunty holding up the Blue and White name. Coach Graham's team took only six out of 15 possible seconds but scored a majority of third places to place above the Crimson team.

The Westminster men who raced in the relay event which decisively decided the outcome of the meet were Akers, Mirtz, Peresyni, and Crowell. Crowell and Peresyni also counted for first places in other competition.

Mandell Favored Over McLarnin In Big Bout Tonight

Expect 50,000 To Trek To Polo Grounds To Watch Lightweights Battle

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Neither Sammy Mandell nor Jimmy McLarnin showed any indications today that they were upset by the two postponements of their fight for the lightweight championship of the world. They will strut their stuff tonight at the Polo Grounds if the weatherman doesn't clip Tex Rickard another one on the chin.

Both fighters must weigh in again at two o'clock this afternoon to prove that they have not grown into light-heavyweights since they stepped on the scales on Thursday.

The odds probably remain at 7 to 5, with Mandell the favorite. By ring time there probably will be plenty of even money bets laid, as the McLarnin adherents seem to have sockfuls of coin. It is proving the biggest betting fight in years.

Good weather tonight will induce more than 50,000 fans to trek to the Polo Grounds. The gate receipts, it is estimated, will run from $250,000 to $300,000. The battle itself is expected to be the most sensational lightweight fracas in years.

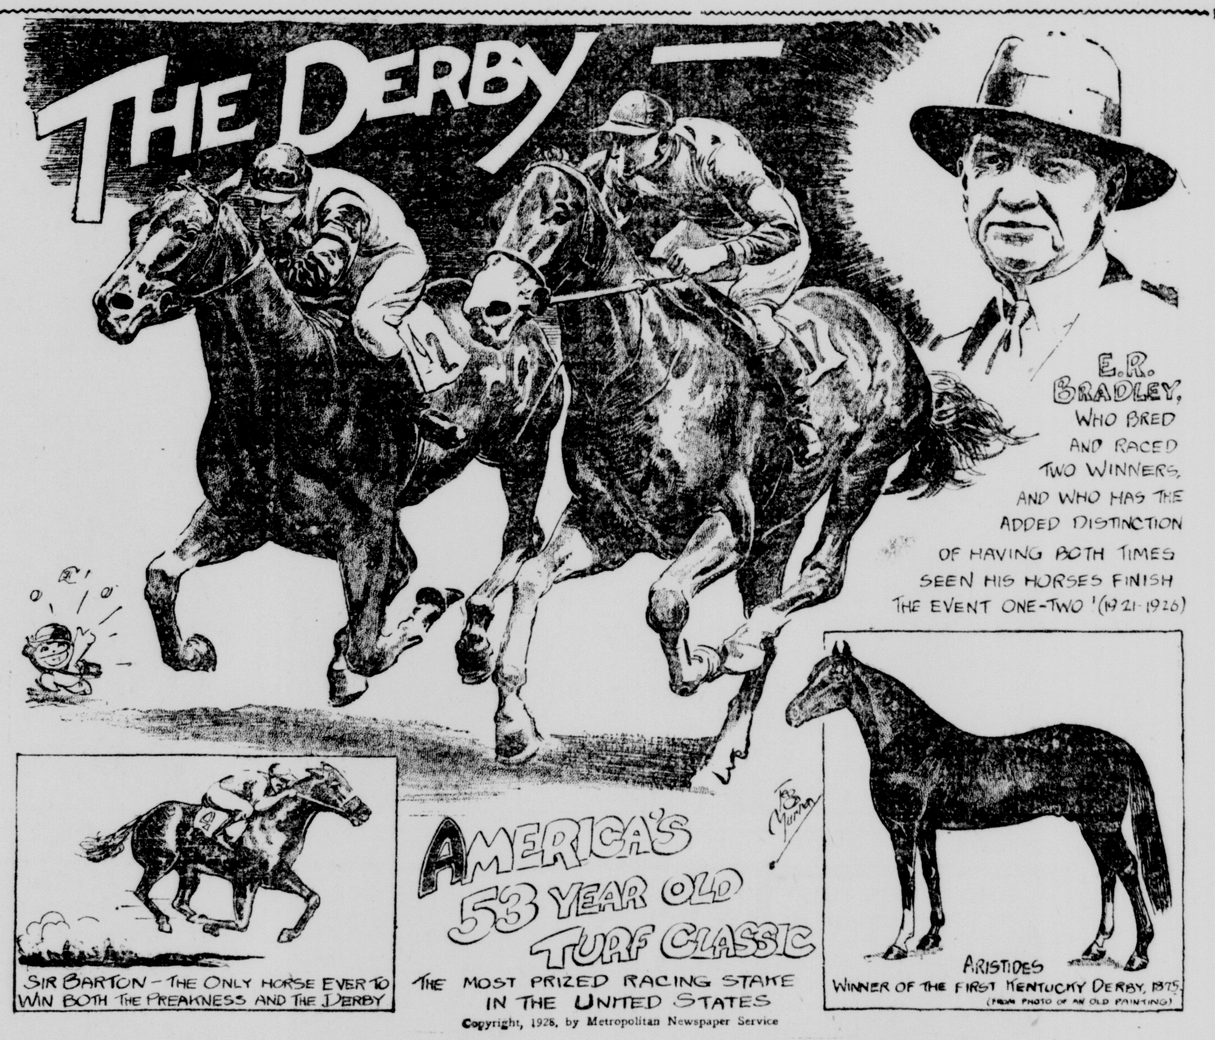
A TURF CLASSIC — BY FEG MURRAY



It won't be long now until 80,000 pop-eyed racing enthusiasts will jam the beautiful course at Churchill Downs, near Louisville, Kentucky, to cheer madly while the fifty-fourth annual derby, most famous of all American race classics in point of tradition and monetary value, is run. At five o'clock today the barrier will snap and the pick of the three-year-olds of the country will race the mile and a quarter that leads to fame and a blanket of roses for the winner, and a gold cup, about $51,000, and more fame to the owner.

A little history on the Kentucky derby shouldn't be amiss right here and now. The very first derby of all, in 1875, was run before 3,500 persons and was won by a little black colt named Aristides. Among those which "also ran" was the famous Ten Broeck which ran four miles in the following year in 7:15¾. In 1879 Lord Murphy won after being knocked to his knees. The famous colt Leonatus won in 1883, and two of the most exciting of all derbies were the 1889 race, in which Spokane just nosed out Proctor Knott, and the twenty-second running in 1896, when Ben Brush won by a nose from Ben Elder after stumbling at the break.

The fastest time ever made for the derby distance of a mile and a quarter, the length of the race since 1896, is 2:03 2-5, and was made by that great horse Old Rosebud in 1914. Other facts of interest are:

A. J. Alexander, of Spring Station, Ky., has bred five winners and John E. Madden, four; Sir Barton, the winner in 1919, is the only horse that ever won both the Preakness and the Derby; Falsetto, second in the race in 1879, sired two later winners, Chant (1894) and Sir Huron, (1906); Halma, the winner in 1895, is the only derby winner ever to produce a winner of another Kentucky Derby. His son, Alan-a-Dale, won in 1902. E. R. Bradley had the supreme joy of seeing his Behave Yourself and Black Servant finish first and second in 1921 and Bubbling Over and Bagenbaggage run one-two in 1926.

R YOU THERE?

"I'm afraid, Mr. Oyster" said the crew coach, "that we will be unable to use you in the shell this summer."

Marathoners To Reach New York Next Saturday

By LELAND C. LEWIS
International News Service Special Correspondent

WELLSVILLE, N. Y., May 19.—C. C. "Cross-Country" Pyle's battle of two thousand blisters will officially terminate at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Saturday night, 3,400 miles from the starting point, May 26, the 55 survivors of the grind were told before they started today for Bath, their 77th control, 51 miles east of here.

Andrew Payne, Oklahoma farm boy, still led the pack with an elapsed time of 503:57:22 for 3,044.9 miles. Nineteen hours, seventeen minutes eight seconds behind him is John Salo, Passaic, New Jersey, Legionnaire. Philip Granville, Jamaica negro of Hamilton, Ontario, is third. These three have singularly avoided foot troubles that have handicapped others who are competing for a share of the $48,500 prize money to be distributed to the first 10 winners in elapsed time.

On the 49.8-mile lap from Bradford, Pa., yesterday, Salo and Ed. Gardner, Seattle, blazed the trail in a tie heat in 7:52:11. Salo reduced Payne's previous margin by 51 minutes, 23 seconds.

Sportraits

Roger Peckinpaugh stands in a fair way to make the fans of Cleveland forget that once there ruled the Indians a chieftain whom the Cleveland fans thought the finest of all managers—Tris Speaker.

Driving his young club at top speed and keeping it well up in the first division during the hectic scramble of the early season Peck, so far, has more than duplicated efforts of Speaker in the first days of the Gray Eagle's reign.

However, Peck has a long way to go before he reaches the complete triumph of Speaker—a pennant winner and a world series.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Six and seven errors a game! What kind of baseball are we having in the big leagues this year?

One may well ask.

As a matter of fact there is a valid reason for what seems to be a wave of poor fielding.

That reason is the introduction of many new infielders and fielding combinations in the major league clubs over the winter. New combinations, by and large, never work as smoothly as old ones. Missed signals, lack of a subconscious co-operation and other angles make for what are chalked up eventually as fielding errors. In addition to this many of the infielders are youngsters, breaking into the big tent and playing under nervous tension.

However, the Cardinal infield, ordinarily one of the best and surest inner defenses in the big show, put on a field day one afternoon during which they booted seven chances. This can be explained only in the same manner as a pitcher's sudden inability to find home plate, which is always anchored in the same spot every afternoon.

It just can't be explained.

The spectacular play of the Brooklyn Dodgers, generally accepted as a so-so outfit last spring in the South, is another tribute to Wilbert Robinson's ability as a manager. This with all due credit to the caliber of pitching which he had as a nucleus around which to construct a new team.

Robbie juggled the makeup of his team considerably in an effort to get better hitting behind his pitching and seems to have accomplished considerable. As a team his new aggregation is playing together in much better form than even Uncle Robbie probably expected it to.

It's going to take more than mean remarks to keep the Dodgers out of the first division if they continue at their present gait. The standings may show them well above fifth place for some time.

the riff raff, the raff being the least desirable of these elements.

I think it was mostly the raff that made its reservations with the park commission. The riff slept fitfully with its feet cocked through the windows of battered automobiles parked along the sidewalks. Only the patricians could afford to pay local hotel rates that went into effect at midnight Wednesday and will not return within the reach of the Bourgeoisie until tomorrow.

The lads who got the break were those who came on special trains from Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and various points to the South. These were backed on to sidings in the railroad yards, leaving their occupants no particular problem outside of the question of just how some of the guests should be backed into their berths when an emergency of that kind arose. The emergency kept arising all evening; the guests tried hard but were unable to follow this excellent example.

Reigh Count Favored

The typical derby scene, in other words old perhaps but always new, even to the experienced eye.

Few derbies, however, have been so harrassed by both threat and the fulfillment of unpleasant weather, yet even the heavy track was not to effect matters unduly, it seemed.

Both Reigh Count and Toro, the outstanding choices in the entry list of twenty-six colts, were presumed to be able to run their race regardless of conditions. This was supposed to apply, too, to Bobashela, Strolling Player, Distraction, Bonivan and other good horses in the field.

Most of them, in fact, were regarded as colts that could run their race in any going, which, of course, is what an entry that expects to go a mile and a quarter in a $50,000 stake race should be prepared to go.

Post positions, announced yesterday, mean that Reigh Count must be gotten away quickly or he may be pinched off when he attempts his first stretch run. His spot will be No. 5, between Cartago, a fair breaker, and Dowagiac, none too fast from the barrier—not a bad combination for the Count to work with. Of course scratches may effect the allignment at any time before they are called to the post.

Toro will be well placed at No. 10, between Mop Up and Jack Higgins, although one or both may be withdrawn. Strolling Player will be flanked by Petee Wrack and Typhoon, well out toward the far rail. Blistering their withers on this structure will be Sun Beau, Distraction, Bobashela and Bonivan, which means that they will have to move out from the barrier with some degree of alacrity, if they don't wish to lose ground at the outset. They, however, should be well out of any jamming that might occur as the middle of the pack tries to break over to take the pole from the inside horses.

I have no doubt you are glad I've settled all of this well in advance. The officials at the Downs are stubborn, however. I understand they have decided to run the race, anyhow.

so Beautiful—

a car to be proud of wherever you go

Wherever the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is driven, it is singled out for attention and comment—for never before has a low-priced car embodied such superb styling, such exterior richness and such distinguished beauty.

Its low-swung bodies are built by Fisher, with all the mastery in design and craftsmanship for which the Fisher name is everywhere renowned. Beautifully beaded and paneled . . . stream-lined on a wheelbase of 107 inches . . . and finished in gorgeous colors of genuine, long lasting Duco—they rival the costliest custom creations . . . not only in brilliance of execution, but in richness and completeness of appointments as well.

But equally impressive is the obvious ability of the Bigger and Better Chevrolet to meet every driving demand. Its improved valve-in-head motor is smooth, powerful and swift in acceleration. Its big, non-locking 4-wheel brakes are always dependable . . . always velvety in operation. And its ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism provides delightful handling ease under every condition of highway and traffic.

Truly, the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is a car to be proud of wherever you go—beautiful, smart and distinguished . . . and so easy and safe to drive that every mile at the wheel is a pleasure.

Shenango School Hears Of Telephone

John R. Dunfee, city manager of the Bell Telephone company, addressed the science classes of the Shenango township consolidated high school Friday afternoon on the development of telephonic communication.

Mr. Dunfee traced the development of the history of communication from the earliest times to the trans-Atlantic radio telephone. After his address an open forum was held, at which time he answered questions asked by the students.

Pittsburgh Banks Lose In Suits To Get Sum From Bell

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—The suit of two Pittsburgh banks to obtain more than $200,000 realized from the sale of the Coraopolis farm formerly owned by John A. Bell, Sr., former millionaire oil operator, failed today when a jury in common pleas court here, returned a verdict for Bell.

James N. Jarvis, trustee in bankruptcy for the elder Bell asserted that Bell was insolvent at the time that the farm was transferred to the son and sought to obtain the proceeds from the sale of the farm for the creditors of the defunct Carnegie Trust Company.

The suit was to determine the proper disposition of the money, the jury deciding it belonged to the younger Bell.

As he crowded the car to the curb, Hadley drew a revolver. Hoye whipped out his revolver and snapped the trigger by the shell failed to explode.

Hoye then reached over and knocked Hadley unconscious with his revolver, although covered by the youth's weapon at the same time.

The others offered no resistance.

Ah, well; any kind of fight looks "fixed" to the man who lost money on it.

Among the things that most of us needn't worry about is the fact that satiety makes people miserable.

A beautiful frock isn't enough. A jaybird would be charming if it would keep still.

Contractor Carried Between $600 And $700 When Last Seen Is Reported

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—Leonard W. West, 39, Homestead contractor whose automobile containing his bloodstained hat, was found in a parking station at Munhall today, was a victim of thugs after he had won a large sum of money detectives believed this afternoon as they attempted to find some clue which would shed light on the fate of the missing man.

West had between $700 and 800 with him when he left their apartment saying that he was "going to try his luck at a house in Braddock." Mrs. Marie West, 34, his wife, told authorities. He has not been heard from since.

West's hat, smudged with greasy finger prints, and blood, a woman's handkerchief and bloodstained seat covering, were found in the car which had been driven into the parking station and abandoned. Blood stains on the running board indicated that West had been attacked and dragged from his car, detectives said.

Fire Destroys Farm House

Incubator In Attic Sets Fire To Home Of Ralph C. Cummings

A fire caused by an incubator in the attic completely destroyed a 5-room house a mile north of Liberty Grange hall, owned by Ralph C. Cummings, R. D. 9.

The fire was discovered by the family about 9:00 o'clock this morning and had made such headway when discovered that it was impossible to save the building but part of the household goods was saved before the fire drove them back.

The building was a frame building, a story and a half and the incubator was set in the upper part of the building. It is thought the incubator caught fire from the lamp and the fire was kindled in that way. The loss is reported to be about $2500.

Two Auto Mishaps Reported To Police

Two slight automobile accidents were reported to the police in the past few hours. A. E. Lucot, 301 Harding street, reports that he was driving south on South Mill street near Taylor street, when his machine collided with the wagon of Steve Sunseri, 707 South Mill street, to which there was a horse attached. The damage done was not great.

Frank S. Connor, 112 Hillcrest avenue, reported to the police Friday that he was driving across Highland avenue on Clen-more boulevard and had stopped to allow two cars pass. There were three boys standing on the corner talking and one of the boys named Connor and residing on Fairmont avenue, started to run across Clen-more boulevard. Mr. Connor stopped his machine quickly and the boy was not knocked to the ground as his arm touched the side of the fender of his machine. The boy said he was not hurt.

NOT RIECK-McJUNKIN TRUCK.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF NEW YORK MARKET

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Federal Reserve Bank authorities played their trump card this week in an effort to curb the frenzied speculation in industrial stocks that has been sweeping over the country. The rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was finally advanced to 4½ per cent, following another four-day period of the Wildest gyrations of specialty stocks, in the course of which all former records for a single day's stock sales were broken.

From the market standpoint, the rise in time money rates to 5¼ per cent, the highest in five years, and the new $140,000,000 expansion in brokers' loans (collateral borrowing), were probably of more significance than the marking upward of the bank rate. The rise in time rates represents a depletion of funds available for long term commercial borrowing, and the steady expansion in brokers' loans is the direct result of the huge volume of public speculative buying now covering on Wall street.

Plane Stocks Soar

The week started with a renewal of broad bullish movements in the airplane stocks. Announcements of plans of the leading railroads to inaugurate a coast-to-coast passenger service, combining day flights with night sleeping car accommodation provided a reasonable basis for much higher prices for the airplane stocks, and the rush of speculative buying was reflected in sharp advances in prices of Curtiss and Wright Aero.

The whole market reeled and rocked in mid-week as the result of a sudden profit-taking movement which converged principally in the fast moving specialties, but gradually broadened out to the industrial and motor stocks. An extreme decline of 43 points in Curtiss Aero common stock was suggestive of the violence of the movement of prices, and a 15-point drop in Radio, with the loss of 8 points in General Motors was evidence aplenty of the spread of the selling wave.

Bulls in the stock market saw no reason for alarm in the higher bank rate, and the favorite stocks were held in such control at the opening of the market on Friday that reactions in prices were negligible. The higher bank rate is now a piece of "bad news out," and its immediate effect will be to cause money to flow to New York instead of away from the financial center.

Boy Scout Camp Will Open For Ten Weeks On June 25

Many New Features At Camp John M. Phillips For Summer Season

Memorial Cabin Being Erected; Hundreds Of Boys To Camp This Year

Camp John M. Phillips, the best Boy Scout Camp in Western Pennsylvania, will open June 25th and will run for a period of ten weeks. The camp never was so well equipped and beautiful as this year. The advanced registrations indicate a bigger turn out of boys than ever before in the history of the Lawrence County Council. Camp Chairman Louis B. Round, and his assistants, W. G. Ayers and Walter Pattison are leaving no stone unturned to have everything a boy's heart could wish for installed at Camp Phillips.

There are now 12 sleeping cabins at the camp and the new Ellwood City dining room where 150 boys can be seated at one time. The dining room is well screened and electric lights are throughout, with sanitary table coverings and sanitary serving.

The new Eagle Scout Charles McConnell memorial cabin which is being erected by the New Castle Rotary club will be a new feature at camp this summer. This building is of rustic construction with a large beautiful open fireplace reaching to the ceiling of the first floor. The building is 20x30 feet and a story and a half high. It is being built for winter as well as summer camping. Forty boys can sleep on steel cots in the second floor. The Scoutleaders Club will build a kitchen to this building this summer. There is a large porch running the full length of the building. The house will be equipped with running water and electric lights and the interior decorating will be in charge of Owen P. Fox who plans to make it of Indian decorations. This building will be dedicated very soon by the Rotary club.

The large camp auditorium is being redecorated and new scenery is being painted by Mr. Fox. A new coating of tan bark is being put over the floor. This building is used for all indoor work when the evenings are cold or it is raining. More than 200 boys can be taken care of in this building, which is equipped with a motion picture projector. Movie shows are held several nights each period. It is also equipped with a fine stage and scenery and minstrel shows, stunt nights, ceremonials, and other forms of entertainment that boys like are provided in this building.

The new Kiwanis dishwashing kitchen has proved to be a very popular addition to Camp Phillips. Here all the dish washing is done under sanitary conditions without interfering with the cooking and serving kitchen. Both kitchens are well screened and the best and most up-to-date equipment is used. The committee believes that the boys' health should not be overlooked at any cost.

To Place Tower

The Kiwanis diving tower will be placed in the private swimming pool very soon and the pool will be carefully gone over and the various depths will be marked by Jack Herbert and Jack Hulme, swimming experts. The new 35-foot slide is on the way and will be ready when the first group of boys arrive. The new Toonerville Trolley will be up and ready to ride when the first swimming period is held. The camp has also been presented with another steel row boat by Carl Shaner, manager of Cascade Park. This gives the camp more protection for the boys while in the water as each of the 3 boats is manned by expert life guards who hold life saving certificates.

The beautiful Indian village is being enlarged this year to take care of more boys. Two new tepees will be erected and decorated by Owen P. Fox. Several changes will be made in the Indian Village this year. A new village will also be erected this year and will be known as the Cliff Dwellers.

The huts will be built rustic and will be similar to the open front cabins found in the mountains of the west. This village will be used in the Indian pageants as well as being the home of the Cliff dwellers. The new stockade known as the Eagle's nest will be all ready for Eagle scouts when they arrive at Camp. This will be located in one of the most beautiful spots to be found in Western Pennsylvania and the Eagle scouts will have it all to themselves.

Pirate Cave

The Pirate Cave is another new feature that will be developed this year for the first time, will be of natural formation and all the thrills that go to make up a pirate's cave will be found in this one. Another new feature this year, which is known as Mustery Circle, is being built deep in the woods where every boy coming to camp will be taken the first night and initiated into the mystic order of the Paddleouchstopgee. This is a new organization and only boys attending camp will get the degree.

The Gimogash Club will have a beautiful new place to take in new members at camp this summer and the place will be known only to members of the Gimogash Club.

A big pageant to which the public is invited will be held the first period and one each period thereafter as the periods go on all season on Pageantry Hill under the direction of Owen P. Fox. New and clever ideas will be used in all pageants this year.

Dedicate Flag Pole

The new Shelby 80-foot steel flag pole donated to Camp Phillips last fall by the Shelby Tube company of Ellwood City will be dedicated at the same time as the Rotary Hut. This pole can be seen for miles around the camp. A new Archery range is being laid out for this year and will be enlarged to take care of more boys. The tennis courts, baseball diamonds, golf course and athletic grounds are all in fine shape and ready for the first group of boys, in fact everything will be ready to use on June 15th and 16th when the big Western Pennsylvania Scout Jamboree will take place at Camp Phillips.

Over a thousand boys and men will be present to decide which patrol of eight boys in Western Pennsylvania knows the most about overnight camping and taking care of themselves in the open. All citizens of Lawrence county are invited to visit the camp on the evening of June 15th at 9 o'clock Eastern Standard time to witness one of the largest and best campfire programmes ever held in this country. Come and see the boys make beds, put up tents, cook meals, wash dishes, do what they are told, build fires, erect refrigerators and lots of other things you think boys can't do.

Open To All

Camp John M. Phillips is open to any boy in Lawrence county who is ten years of age and wants to become a Boy Scout, who registers at Scout Headquarters and pays the small fees that is required of all boys. Leroy Norton will be in charge of Camp Phillips again this year as Camp Director and he has his program planned so that small and younger boys will be given a curriculum all to themselves so there will be two programs, one for older boys and one for younger boys. Mr. Norton is a boys' man and knows how to make boys happy and at the same time have them learn someting which will be of value to them in later life.

A new and beautiful camp book will be mailed to all registered scouts this week and registrations should be made at once at scout headquarters, Greer building, New Castle, Pennsylvania. Registrations will stop this year as soon as 125 come in for each period so better hurry boys or you will be left waiting.

Mrs. W. G. Ayers will be in charge of the kitchen again this year and will be assisted by capable and expert help so the meals that have made Camp Phillips famous will continue under the supervision of Mrs. Ayers. "When better camp meals are cooked, Mrs. Ayers will cook them."

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Anybody interested in statistics could have employed his time to advantage last night, computing the value of automobiles around the Scottish Rite cathedral. Seldom, if ever, has there been such a group of cars and there was everything from the lowly flivver to the austere models now being shown for 1929.

They were parked on Lincoln avenue from Jefferson street to the senior high school, on Highland avenue from the turn, out to Park avenue, on Young and Blaine and Wallace and Mercer, in alleys and in yards.

Another interesting fact would have been the compilation of cities represented. About 40 to be exact, and some of them had a long way to go before they got home.

It hardly seems exaggeration to say that the reunion which closed last night was the best one ever held in the cathedral, and the success of any gathering in the building can be judged from the number of cars parked about it.

South Jefferson street from Long avenue south is being paved and the noise you hear from that district is the combined sighs of relief from the residents. South Jefferson street has been rough for the past many years, ch very rough, and woe betide the driver who had to make that hill. But it will soon be paved, with concrete, and those rough trips can be forgotten.

It won't be long until the nation is flooded with an avalanche of oratory. Political questions will be settled, the Nicaraguan trouble disposed of, world court and world peace established and the happiness of the human race put on a going basis. The usual commencement orations will be on tap and everything promises to be under control.

The photographers will do a land office business taking pictures of sweet young things in caps and gowns, the jewelers will sell a lot of things for presents, and for a week the well known peace and good order of the various communities will be sacrificed for the scholastic or collegiate activities. And then the summer.

THRIFT AWARDS AT OAK STREET

More Than Hundred Pupils Of School Get Awards For Saving

A hundred and nine pupils of the Oak street school received recognition in the thrift exercises held Friday morning, and grades 5A and 4A were tied for first place, each grade having 16 pupils who had saved at least one coin a week during the entire school year. Grade 3A-1 was second, grade 6B was third and grade 5B fourth.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 5

The boys of Elks troop 5 had a very interesting meeting which was held in the basement of the Elks Home in charge of Scoutmaster Ralph F. Davis assisted by Walter Kerr and Tony Colaluca. Angelo Amini was voted into the troop.

Another court session was held with Harry Brown in charge as Judge. The charge was brought against Dominick Morgan by the scribe. It was found when the scribe totaled up the books a dime was missing and it was tracked down to Dominick. A verdict of guilty was brought in and the policeman, acted by Sol Davis, put the handcuffs on him and put him in jail for ten minutes as this was the sentence passed by the jury.

These mock court sessions are very interesting to the Scouts as well as instructive. An idea is given to the boys of the manner in which justice is meted out in actual court. It is hoped the boys shall take advantage of this opportunity to learn this particular branch of civil government.

A treat was given the Scouts of the troop when Mr. J. Garfield Davis, chairman of the troop committee, presented to them a most distinguished visitor, Earl Lin Dilks, the long distance runner. The boys were very much enthused over this and were very glad to see Mr. Dilks and to shake hands with him.

Scribe—Alfred Howard.
